OUR LOSSES IN NORTH RUSSIA

Total American Casualties to Date 451—Enemy Losses Much Greater

Newly Mobilized Russian Troops Come To Relieve Allied Forces

ARCHANGEL, Thursday, March 13 (By the Associated Press).—Compared to the losses inflicted upon the enemy, the allied casualties in the fighting along the Vaga river since Feb. 25 have been extremely light. It is estimated that the Bolsheviks have lost at least 500 killed.

The American casualties from Feb. 25 to March 9, inclusive, were five killed on the Vaga front, and 10 on the Dvina front. No officers were killed. One American soldier is missing and two officers and 20 men were wounded. The total American casualties to date in North Russia follow:

Killed in action: Officers, 4; men, 71. Died of wounds: Officers, 1; men, 18. Missing: Men, 36.

Died of disease: Officers, 2; men, 67. Drowned: Officers, 1; men, 241. The health of the expeditionary force since the Spanish influenza epidemic in September and October has been excellent. Of the 65 deaths from disease, 63 occurred before Jan. 4. Throughout the fighting the American troops have generally been greatly outnumbered, but the losses inflicted upon the enemy have been at least five times those suffered by the Americans. As the newly mobilized Russian troops are becoming trained, they are gradually relieving the strain to which the American, British and French forces were put in the early days of the campaign. All American troops are now enjoying regular rest periods, either at Archangel or at convenient villages behind the lines.

REDS CAPTURE MUCH GROUND

Occupied Territory the Size of France in Two Months, Say Officers

Declare Soviet Troops Will Reach Archangel by May 1—Many Executions

LONDON, March 14.—The bolshevik general staff at Moscow claims that during January and February, the bolshevik army occupied territory the size of France, having 1055 miles of railroad under its control, and declares that the soviet troops will reach Archangel by May 1, according to a Helsingfors despatch to the Mail.

After the bolsheviks entered Kiev, they are said to have executed Prof. Baranovsky, an economist, who was recently appointed to represent Ukraine in Paris; Prof. Zabolotny; Prof. Krimko, Gen. Balaban, 11 newspapermen and the president of the municipality.

WOULD PROBE COAL PRICES

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—Anthraxite coal operators today were disinclined to comment upon the action of Governor Spruiell in inquiring of Attorney General W. L. Schafer, whether the state had authority to investigate the reasons for the advance in prices by producing companies. The governor said some mines were on short time due to slackening demand, and that he was at a loss to understand the commercial or economic justification for increasing prices at this time.

The governor's action was prompted by the announcement of several large companies that present prices would continue until May 1, when 10 cents a ton would be added each month for five months. One large independent company announced it would make the increase 16 cents a ton a month.

REV. MR. McCLELLAND CITED FOR BRAVERY

SPRINGFIELD, March 14.—Rev. Geo. H. McClelland, who resigned a Presbyterian pastorate to become an army chaplain, has been cited for bravery in rescuing the wounded and caring for the dying under fire, according to reports received here today. After his regiment had been ordered from the trenches, the citation says, he organized a party that rescued wounded soldiers under intense shellfire. Rev. McClelland is with the 30th Division located at Le Mans, France.

Pres. Wilson Returning to Peace Conference After Trip to U.S. Arrived in Paris Today

Great Crowd at Station Welcomes President—German Delegates to Peace Conference Not Selected—Supreme Council Must Give Up Tsing-Tao

PARIS, March 14.—President Wilson returning to the peace conference after his trip to the United States, arrived in Paris shortly after noon today.

Although the time of the president's arrival had not been made public, a great crowd had gathered at the Invalides station at 11 o'clock. The station was decorated with flowers and flags and the 21st French regiment was on hand to do military honors.

BERNSTORFF NOT GERMAN DELEGATE

WEIMAR, March 14.—(By the Associated Press).—All the German delegates to the peace conference will be on an equal footing, although Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the foreign minister, will be their leader. The party will not have the power to make final decisions, that being vested in the cabinet.

LOWELL MAY HAVE BIG CAR SHOP

If the plans of the trustees of the Bay State Street Railway Co., of which Fred J. Crowley of this city is a member, and the efforts of Mr. Crowley in particular, for the rehabilitation of the road are carried out, there is a very good possibility that a large car shop, similar in nature to the car shops of the Boston & Maine railroad in Billerica, will be erected in this city to provide for the repair of all the cars of the company in the eastern part of the state and will provide employment for a large number of men.

It is known that at the present time two cities are in the foreground as possibilities for the location of the repair shop, Lowell and Chelsea. If the company succeeds in having its "50-50" plan adopted, whereby the communities which the road serves will help place it on its feet again, the first step which will be taken will be to improve the rolling stock of the company and this will mean a large plant. Mr. Crowley intends to make a strenuous effort to have this plant located in Lowell.

Various arguments for its location here are evident, prominent among them the large proportion of patronage which this city contributes to the road's upkeep. Another is that Lowell forms a nucleus of a large area of the transportation territory of the company and a third the availability of help here.

The Bay State has not made extensive improvements in its cars recently because of the fact that its roadbed in many localities is in poor condition and this could not be remedied because of the shortage of labor and material during the war as well as the low status of the company's financial condition.

However, with the rejuvenation which is bound to come about if the road is given a helping hand for a few years by the communities which it serves, there will result an era of rebuilding and improvement because of the mere fact that the road will have the financial means to carry its ideas out in concrete form. One of them is the repair shop mentioned previously and it is for this reason that Lowell should have a very vital interest in the "50-50" bill which has been endorsed by the board of trade and which comes before the legislature for a hearing next week.

The Salvation Army officials, backed by some of the wealthiest people in the country, have come to the point where it has been determined the financial interests of the organization must be placed on a business basis. The budget system will be placed in operation all over the United States and the drive will be carried on simultaneously from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Massachusetts and Rhode Island officers of the army met in Boston recently and plans were formulated for the campaign in New England. The budget of the Lowell corps is being made up and this in addition to the annual expenses of running this great work in Lowell, will include an amount sufficient for a building fund from which money will be expended for the purchase of a site and building sufficient to take care of the needs of the corps as headquarters here.

It is assumed that every cent raised in this campaign in Lowell will be devoted absolutely to the needs of the corps in this city, and the entire campaign will be run without a cent of expense being taken from the campaign funds. In other words, not a cent of the money raised here will be applied to any thing other than the regular running expenses of the Salvation Army in Lowell and for the procuring of a headquarters building.

Japanese Soldiers Attack Americans With Fixed Bayonets

PEKING, Thursday, March 13.—(By the Associated Press).—American marines have raided the Japanese concession at Tien-Tsin, forcing their way into the Japanese consulate and assaulting the consul, according to despatches received here.

The trouble is said to have been caused by the rough treatment given American soldiers who became disorderly in the Japanese quarter of the city. Japanese soldiers drove out the Americans with fixed bayonets, it is said, wounding two of them quite seriously. The next day, 200 angry marines who were off duty, paraded through the Japanese concession, and it is alleged, they attacked every Japanese encountered. When the marines reached the consulate, they forcibly entered, it is reported, and assaulted the consul, whose injuries are understood to be serious.

The consular body is deliberating on measures to be taken to restore normal conditions. It is said that feeling is running high in Tien-Tsin.

State Department Notified.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—A clash between American troops, a Japanese policeman and some civilians at Tien-Tsin was reported to the state department today by Minister Reisch at Peking. He sent First Secretary Spencer to Tien-Tsin to investigate. No mention was made of a raid by American marines in the Japanese consulates and the wounding of the consul.

Sinn Feiners Ask "Safe Conducts"

DUBLIN, Thursday, March 13.—The Sinn Feiners, "in accordance with international custom," are asking the British government for "safe conducts" for their delegates to the peace conference, but will not ask for passports.

Safe conducts are issued among belligerents.

Berlin Insurrection Suppressed

BASLE, Thursday, March 13.—The Berlin insurrection might be considered as suppressed, Gustav Noske, minister of defense, announced in the national assembly at Weimar today, a German despatch reports. Only one suburb remained to be cleared of the Spartacists, he stated, but disarmament of the population must be hastened.

END OF N. Y. HARBOR STRIKE IN SIGHT

NEW YORK, March 14.—The action of the army, navy and shipping board in accepting the railroad administration's wage scale and the report that the needs of the government would be met, if necessary, by commandeering the boats of private owners, indicated that the harbor strike probably would be broken today.

MUST SEND BREAD STUFFS TO RUSSIA

ARCHANGEL, Thursday, March 13.—(By the Associated Press).—Information obtained by the allied food committee indicates that the American people must provide breadstuffs until the Russian question is settled and the country is again placed on a sound agricultural basis.

Because of the disruption of transportation, peasants are hesitating to sow any more grain than they themselves need, as they fear its seizure by the Bolsheviks. Owing to the shortage of seed grain, Russia will be comparatively without crops in 1919.

GERMANY NOW FACES STARVATION

LONDON, Thursday, March 13.—If Germany does not get quite large food supplies during April, literal starvation will result, as a Reuter's despatch from Berlin.

"The government was forced to raise the bread ration weeks ago to its present status to keep the people from starving," the Reuter's says. "With this ration, grain supplies will be absolutely exhausted."

Through an error it was stated in the ad of the Neymann Furniture Co. Thursday evening, that big, generous comfortable rockers were selling for $13.99. The price should have read $17.99, and the rockers nicely upholstered in brown Spanish leather, with high back and deep spring seat, are a big bargain at that price.

The annual business meeting of the Highland Congregational church brotherhood was held last evening. Reports of committee and officers were received and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: President, William Harvey; vice president, George Gilman; secretary, Arthur Noyes; treasurer, Erwin Pearson. A supper was served after the business meeting.

A well attended meeting in the series of welfare talks being given under the auspices of the civic committee were held yesterday afternoon in Middlesex hall. Miss Mary Driscoll of Boston was to have spoken, but because of a severe cold was unable to be present. Miss Emily Skilton, worker among girls in this city, spoke interestingly of her work and the problems which arise and must be overcome in the life of each girl with whom she comes in contact. Hugh J. Melloy, superintendent of schools, will speak at the meeting two weeks from yesterday.

After several applications you can't find a particle of dandruff or any falling hair, and the scalp will never itch.

TO CUT EMPLOYMENT SERVICE 80 PER CENT

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Reduction of 80 per cent. in the force of the United States employment service, effective March 22, was announced yesterday by Director General Densmore. This was made necessary, it was explained, by the failure of congress to provide funds to continue the work.

Mr. Densmore said the number of employment offices will be reduced from 750 to 50, but that none of the work in direct connection with the return of soldiers and sailors to civilian employment would be discontinued.

Secretary Wilson in a statement last night disclosed that the service could not draw on President Wilson's $100,000,000 war emergency fund because practically all of it has been spent or pledged.

After the urgent deficiency bill was killed in the closing hours of the senate, Secretary Wilson appealed to the president. He received this reply by radio from the presidential ship, Geo. Washington, at sea:

"Regret nothing so much as the discontinuance of the work of the employment service bureau, but the fact is that, including pledges made, my fund is practically exhausted. What remains would not suffice to maintain the bureau, and to my great grief I see no escape from disbandment. I hope that it will be possible to keep a skeleton organization."

Secretary Wilson announced that the employment service would be reorganized on a basis that would enable it to utilize the voluntary services of individuals and organizations to continue the work of finding places for returned soldiers and sailors. Reports reaching headquarters here

This Special Occasion Brings to Lowell America's De Lux Woolens

Lowell has its $50.00 to $75.00 tailors—Lowell has its $35.00 to $55.00 ready made clothiers, but I'll beat them to it on this bunch of famous weaves now in my store at 31 Merrimack Square. I BAR NOT A SINGLE CONCERN.

Not out of the mist of time, nor out of the mystery of textile fabricating has come the knowledge that permits the world to produce better cloths than I have assembled in my store for this, the Last Two Days of My Tenth Anniversary Sale.

Many Mills Make Good Fabrics, But These Mills Are Historical

As the names of Washington, Lincoln, Grant and Wilson inspire world admiration for American statesmanship, so these mills and their products compel world tribute to American manufacturing genius.

THE STORY OF ARMENIA

Centuries of Oppression To Give Way to Peace Under League of Nations

By Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n.
It's a long suffering people the United States will become mandatory for it it acts as foster-daddy to Armenia under the direction of the League of Nations.

It's a people who claim an early civilization, whose homeland is the very heart of the region which the bible tells us was re-peopled by the sons of Noah after the great deluge. Mt. Ararat, where Noah's ark went aground is in the center of their land. A thousand years before Christ a distinct Armenian people occupied this region and paid tribute to a line of noble kings and boasted of culture and learning.

Their kingdom extended from the Black Sea and the Caucasus mountains to Persia and Syria and had an area of 500,000 square miles.

Babylonia, Persia, Rome exacted tribute from Armenia in turn, but left her to work out her own internal problems, and in the "dark ages" of the western world, Armenia attained her highest position in world civilization.

Armenian Church

The Armenian church was established in 310 A. D. by Gregory, 15 years before the Greek church and became a strong power, behind Christianity.

Gregory was imprisoned because he would not worship the old gods, but released, converted his king and in eight years had Christianized his country. Zoroastrianism, the old religion of the country collapsed.

Rulers of Persia tried to put down Christianity and threw the country into anarchy. Then came Arab rule and 256

ARMENIA.

Armenia embraces a territory as large as France. It extends from the new Georgian Republic to the Mediterranean. While Armenia has had no geographical boundaries for centuries, it is expected that Trebizond on the Black sea and a port on the Mediterranean will be included within its borders when defined by the League of Nations. Ezerum is likely to be its capital. Its population will be nearly 2,000,000.

years of bitter conflict between Mohammedans and Byzantines swept the land. A hundred years of peace followed beginning with the reign of the Jewish king Ashod I. Through it all, Armenians preserved their race.

Byzantine and Mongol invasions brought a series of subjugations and persecutions which have not ended to the present day.

When the Ottoman Turk set up his mosque at Agia Sofia in the 16th century he got a grip on the land that has not been loosened until the great war killed the power of the Turk.

Mohammed Tolerant

Mohammed, the conqueror, was tolerant for a time. He left the Christians alone, though granting them no civil recognition unless they embraced Mohammedanism. Armenians became the traders and business men among the Turks and were loyal as citizens, though they clung to their ancient language and religion.

Armenia in time, on the ever-changing map of Europe, was divided among Turkey, Russia and Persia. But Turkey controlled most. Russian nihilism provoked revolts in 1885 and warfare marked by extreme cruelty on both sides was waged.

Turkey trusted the subduing of the rebels to the savage Kurds and then began the massacres which have stirred the civilized world and made the name of Turkey infamous.

In 1894 England, France and Russia, backed up by their warships made the sultan promise restitution and reforms. The Armenians wanted safely, a share in the government and proportional representation.

Commit Atrocities

But the Turks and the Kurds were fully embred and the massacres continued. Villages were devastated, famine and plague followed. The Turkish government reluctantly permitted the Red Cross to bring relief to the sufferers. The outrages became fewer for a time. But in August, 1896, a mob in Constantinople, spurred on by government agents beat to death 4000 Armenians, because of attacks by a group of Armenians on the Ottoman bank.

Determined efforts to stamp out the entire Armenian race followed this outbreak, and European alliances became so entangled that no power dared to step in and compel the inhumanity to cease.

Fanaticism and cupidity of the ignorant subjects of the Turkish government were played on and they came to see the extermination of the Armenian as a religious duty, with confiscation of his property as the reward.

Armenian war refugees who have been fed and clothed by American relief workers. The larger figure at the left is an Armenian girl in the rags which she wore when she came to a relief station.

Thousands Die

With the outbreak of the great war and the entrance of Turkey on the side of Germany, the extermination of the Armenians was quickened.

They were slaughtered by thousands in their homes and villages. They were herded together for deportation and started on marches of hundreds of miles which had for their purpose only the death by exhaustion and starvation of the marchers. Hundreds whose vitality carried them far were butchered by the roadsides. Mothers with babes who fell out were either slain or left to starve. Turkish officials boasted of the numbers whose death they had compassed. It is estimated that

2,000,000 were slain.

Thousands of Armenians fled into the Caucasus and with the Georgians formed an army of 250,000 men which fought on the side of the allies.

Perhaps a million are left in Turkish Armenia of the people who have so suffered persecution. That persecution is ended and thousands will return from the four corners of the earth to enjoy the peace of their native land.

Peasants, workmen, artisans mostly, they have displayed stubborn endurance rather than moral stamina. Their ability for self-government is a thing untried in modern days. Their sponsors will have much to do besides protect them from incursions.

Armenia will be given seaports at Trebizond, on the Black sea and on the Mediterranean, it is expected.

The wide plains of the Van produce excellent crops and there are rich valleys where cotton and rice and fruit and tobacco grow. There are some silk mills and other small industries but mostly the people are handworkers, weaving of rugs being one of the chief industries.

Rich copper mines and iron and gold and silver are Armenia's mineral wealth.

Full of Sentiment

In appearance the Armenians are much like the Jews. In temperament they are oriental, full of sentiment and emotion. The women weep readily. In one of the American schools—and the Americans have done more than any other nation to educate and light-

WHY AMERICA?

America is sought as mandatory for Armenia because America already has done greater work for relief of suffering Armenians and for their education than any other nation. Professors in American schools in Armenia have become relief agents. American missionaries knowing the language and the land have been great help in relief work and will again be of great assistance if America sets up a form of government in the country. Everywhere the Armenian people pay tribute to the big brotherliness of the Americans. No less than 5000 of these American workers were in the country when the war broke out and many times they have been able to divert Turkish cruelties.

on the lot of the Armenians—when a girl died her schoolmates wept and screamed until some of them were sent home ill. The Armenians are natural actors and singers.

Their attire is oriental, the women wearing the bloomers and dark bodies and a kerchief over the head, while the men dress like Turks, in collarless coats and red fez. Outside of their native regions they assume the dress of the Europeans.

HOW TO LIVE ON JUST ONE DIME A DAY

ALAMEDA, Calif., February.—Here is how Theophile Reichard, Alameda artist and "nature man," has lived for 20 years on 10 cents a day.

He eats no meat.

He lives on one pound of flour a day, which he grinds himself in a small grinding machine.

He makes flour from across picked up beneath the trees: from cracked corn such as is fed to chickens; from wheat, rice, peanuts.

He also eats salad made from milkweed, ground carrots, onions, parsley, celery and other green vegetables and weeds, which he raises in his own "war garden."

He makes a soup of the same ingredients soaked in warm water—but never boiled.

He digs clams on the Alameda beaches and eats them carefully washed, but raw.

He makes "bread" of the various ground vegetables and cereals, drying it for two hours in a heat no greater than sunshine.

He never eats cooked food.

Often he omits eating for days, recruiting his strength by lying in the sunlight on the beach and absorbing what he claims is radio-activity from the earth.

"Nature knows it all," he declares. "Nature does not cook. We spoil her work by our efforts."

"I have followed this diet for 20 years, and am in perfect health with a high working capacity. I shall outlive many a man who makes his stomach his God."

"We do not properly appreciate nature. Animals live on grass and weeds."

"Nature-man" Reichard, showing how he lives on a dime a day—digging clams and gathering milkweed for "salad." Above is his "studio," built of driftwood, where he leads the simple life.

—so may we. All our elaborate cooking is merely a bad habit.

"Houses are also bad habits. Animals gain strength from breathing fresh air day and night—so may we. Sunshine contains energy, which I get by exposing my body to sunshine."

"Men who wear ordinary clothes cheat themselves of nature's gift of strength."

"The earth is full of energy in the form of radio-activity. I get that by lying on the ground. Most men never get it at all."

"Raw food contains living cells. Cooked food is dead. Death cannot sustain life."

"Where does the animal get his strength? Just where primitive man" got it—from raw food. The horse works all day on hay and barley; if we gave it to him cooked, he would weaken and die.

"Our use of fats is artificial. We say we need them to give heat. We should get our heat from sunlight and the warm earth."

"My grinder does all my cooking. My meals consist of pastes, raw vegetables, soup, milk and fruits. The cost never exceeds 10 cents a day, and often it is only 2 cents. I am never hungry—artificial hunger comes from the bad habit of eating too much."

Reichard paints in his own studio of driftwood. He sleeps under an open tent. Here are some of his recipes:

Acorn Bread—Ground acorns, mixed with ground wheat or corn, whole or ground rice, peanuts; add water. No salt, yeast or sugar. Bake two hours in temperature of sunshine.

Cereal Cake—Same, add dried fruits, more peanuts, brown sugar.

Salad (milkweed or carrot)—Grind the weeds or carrots, add half an apple per person, raisins (seedless), sliced bananas, flavor with onions, lemon juice, salt, red pepper.

Cereal Soup—Flour of acorns, wheat or corn, with rice, peanuts, onions or other green vegetables; soak in a little warm water and serve tepid or cold.

Peanut Butter—Mix ground peanuts with coconut butter; grind very fine.

MEXICAN CONGRESS IN EXTRA SESSION

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The Mexican congress has been called by President Carranza to meet in extra session on May 1. State department advisers yesterday said business to be considered would include oil land legislation, a law to enforce provisions of the new constitution relating to labor and social welfare and legislation for a central bank.

The oil land legislation is of great interest to the United States, Great Britain and France, as it will affect vast property holdings of their nationals. The pending petroleum bill, upon which the last congress did not have time to act, is regarded in official circles here as unsatisfactory in that it merely grants licenses to oil companies to operate their productive wells and thus fails to insure title to the undeveloped lands held in reserve for the future.

Officials said yesterday the proposed

Decision To Send Food in Return For Ships Presented
to Hun Delegates

BRUSSELS, Thursday, March 13.—The decision of the allied powers providing for the turning over by Germany of merchant ships and securities in exchange for food, was presented to a German delegation here today by an allied commission, headed by Vice Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss of Great Britain.

The meeting began at 2 o'clock and half an hour later there was a recess until 3 o'clock. It is understood that only Vice Admiral Wemyss spoke during the two sessions. The Germans were permitted to ask questions, but no discussion was allowed. Vice Admiral Wemyss will return to Paris tomorrow.

PARIS, March 13.—The German delegation at Brussels today was under the presidency of Under Secretary of State Van Braam. Dr. Theodor Melchior of M. M. Warburg & Co., bankers, of Hamburg, was vice president, according to Marcel Dutin, editor of Echo de Paris. Among the German representatives was G. Mankiewicz, a director of the Deutsche bank.

It is said that Van Braam had prepared a speech, saying that the feeding of Germany was a matter of interest to all the western powers. "The allies have offered to furnish food until next harvest, but it is said that the Germans were ready to urge that the only measures that would cause a great improvement in the internal situation of Germany would be the sending of food in quantities proportionate to Germany's needs and the fixing of satisfactory financial conditions."

Allied Commission To
Evacuate Teschen

WARSAW, Thursday, March 13.—Notwithstanding the request of the Inter-Allied commission, the Czechs have refused to evacuate part of the region near Teschen which they recently occupied, and the situation seems to be delicate. They rejected the proposals of the commission and claimed that it was incomplete as a result of the departure of General Grenier, a French representative for Paris, and Prof. A. C. Coolidge, an American delegate for Warsaw.

As a result of the occupation of this region by the Czechs, it is said that a part of the Polish miners there are out of work and that unemployment threatens to spread throughout the whole district.

PARIS, Thursday, March 13.—The four seconds of Leon Vauderane and Robert Schreiber, army aviators, who proposed an aerial duel, met today and decided that, as a state of war still existed, it was impossible to permit any duel in France. Therefore, the question of the challenge has been postponed until the treaty of peace is signed.

SOLDIERS' APPLICATION
FOR $60 BONUS

In sending application to Washington for the $60 bonus, a soldier is obliged to send his discharge papers also. To avoid any hardship, the Red Cross has arranged to have copies made before sending, for any soldier who so desires, and to have these kept at a central place so that he may refer to them if he wishes before the return of his original.

All Lowell soldiers so desiring may leave copies made at the Lowell Social Service League, 81 Merrimack street, Mondays or Thursday between 3.30 and 5 p. m. Those of the outlying towns and all other towns of North Middlesex county at the Home Service headquarters of their respective towns or at the Red Cross office, Market street, Lowell, from 2 to 4, Mondays or Wednesdays; or from 10 to 12, Saturdays. The copies will then be kept on file, and information given to any one, upon the soldier's request.

Following is further information received from the Red Cross concerning the $60 bonus:

Every person in the military or naval service who has resigned or has been discharged or released from active duty under honorable conditions after April 6, 1917; or who hereafter resigns, or is discharged from active

Best Medicine

Pain by Using the Tonic
Treatment

Efficiency has become the business measure of one person's superiority over another. This one succeeds where another fails because of the difference in this quality. Personal efficiency is dependent upon no one thing as much as perfect health. If a man or a woman is handicapped with headaches which cause torture day and night, concentration and continuous effort are impossible and the victim is certain to be left behind in competition.

Sick headaches are also called nervous headaches. The cause varies but it is usually some fault in the body's process of changing the food into blood. Doctors call it "faulty metabolism." The blood loses its tone and the nerves revolt. Patient, reliable men and women thus become irritable and erratic. Their friends avoid them and the sufferer becomes melancholy and brood.

This is a serious condition if permitted to continue unchecked but in many cases it yields to the tonic and laxative treatment. Mrs. Alfred Snow of No. 98 Spring street Auburn, Me., suffered from severe headaches for a number of years and although she tried many medicines, none of them seemed to suit her case until she tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"I was all tired out," she says, "my back ached at times so I could hardly move. I had severe headaches which would make me feel deathly sick, was pale and lost flesh and strength. My sleep did me no good. I was tired and restless all the time. I had severe nervous attacks and pain in the top of my head. Sometimes there were trembling sensations all over my body and my heart troubled me."

"One day my son brought home six boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and urged me to try them, which I did. After the second box I could notice an improvement. I took twelve boxes at that time and I knew they gave me strength and built me up. I am very thankful for the benefit which I have received from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and whenever I need a tonic I shall use them again."

There has been no increase in the price of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by your own druggist or will be sent direct by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for a copy of the book on nervous disorders. It will be mailed free to any address on request.—Adv.

duity, is entitled to gratuity of $60 with a certain few exceptions.

Briefly the persons entitled to this gratuity are:

Officers and enlisted men of the army including field clerks and nurses, navy and marine corps, naval reservists, male and female persons in the service of the coast guard, coast and geodetic survey, and lighthouse service, who performed active duty with the navy during the present war.

The exceptions are: Any person who did not report for active duty until after Nov. 11, 1918; any person who has already received one month's pay on discharge from the army under the act of May 18, 1917; and person who is entitled to retired pay.

The heirs or legal representatives of a person who is entitled to this gratuity do not become entitled to it. It is provided as an aid to discharged men until they can obtain employment, and bears no relation to pensions, insurance or compensation.

This gratuity will be paid to the persons who are entitled to receive it on designation, discharge or release from active duty by the supply officer who makes the final settlement of their account.

If already separated from the service, members of the army will make application to the zone finance officer, Lemon building, Washington, D. C., and members of the navy or naval reserve force will make claim to the disbursing division, bureau of supplies and accounts, navy department, Washington, D. C. Members of the marine corps will make claim on the officer who settled their accounts, or, if this officer's whereabouts is unknown, or if paid off by a navy supply officer, claim will be forwarded to the paymaster, marine corps headquarters, Washington, D. C. Coast Guard members will forward their claims to coast guard headquarters, Washington, D. C.

All claims will be accompanied by a statement of service and the original certificate of discharge or orders to inactive duty. If the original discharge or orders are lost, it will be necessary to obtain not only a duplicate but a statement from the officer by whom final settlement of account was made that no gratuity was paid at discharge. This will take time, of course, but is reasonable and necessary in order to avoid duplication of payments. No particular form of claim is required.

WELCOME HOME FOR
LOWELL SOLDIER

Sergeant Joseph McShane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McShane of 899 Chalmers street, who recently returned from France, where he was gassed and wounded eight times and received the war cross for heroic service on the battlefield, was agreeably surprised at the home of his parents last evening, when a large number of his friends and relatives called to bid him welcome and congratulate him on his excellent record. Sergeant McShane was presented a handsome gold ring and a pleasant evening followed, those taking part in the entertainment being: Miss Kenney, Mrs. Adams, Miss Lillian Renner, Mrs. Norah Stevens and J. Green. The home had been prettily decorated for the occasion with red, white and blue streamers and American flags. Games were played and a buffet luncheon was served by Mrs. Joseph McShane, Mrs. Norah Stevens, Mrs. May Donnelly and Miss Myrtle Campbell. Sergeant McShane enlisted in the national guard in 1913 as a member of Company M, Ninth regiment and when the war broke out he went to France with his unit, being later transferred to the 101st regiment. He was promoted to the position of sergeant while in France and was wounded and gassed eight times. Sergeant McShane was awarded the war cross for bravery during the last big battle in which his unit participated. A feature of last evening's gathering was the exhibition of numerous war souvenirs, which the sergeant brought back from France and which included a German Bible, a German soldier's belt, numerous pieces of German and Belgian coins, a German leather ammunition case and other things. The young man is now enjoying the best of health.

TRY THIS TONIC
FOR STUBBORN ILLS
OF THE STOMACH

Some forms of stomach trouble that do not yield to ordinary treatment often respond to the tonic treatment that builds up the system, strengthens the nerves that control the digestive processes and gives the stomach a supply of rich, red blood.

"My stomach was out of order," says Mr. Albert J. Snell, whose address is R.F.D. No. 69, Bonus Point, N. Y., and my appetite was so poor that I did not care for food. There was constantly a gnawing pain in my stomach. I got but little nourishment and soon was completely run-down. I couldn't sleep or rest well, although I craved it and my eyes ached. My complexion and the whites of my eyes had a yellow, jaundice-like color. I grew so weak and shaky that I could hardly put one foot ahead of the other and my back was weak and sore. I then tried several medicines without benefit, until I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A few boxes showed me that they were adapted to my trouble and they entirely relieved me. I work hard every day and have never been troubled with my stomach since."

So many dyspeptics have been helped by this simple treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that every sufferer from indigestion should try it. Good digestion is impossible without a supply of rich, red blood and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually build up the blood to do this work.

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., has issued a free book, "What to Eat and How to Eat," that should be in every home. It gives just the information that you want regarding your diet. The company will mail Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, postpaid, at 50 cents per box or your own druggist can supply you. Do not pay more.—Adv.

ANTI-LEAGUE MEN TO
FORM ORGANIZATION

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Preliminary plans for the formation of a national non-partisan organization designed to keep the American people better informed as to events at the peace conference and to oppose acceptance of the constitution of the League of Nations as now drawn were made at a conference today between Senators Reed of Missouri, Democrat, and Borah of Idaho and Poindexter of Washington, Republicans, and George Wharton Pepper, a lawyer of Philadelphia.

After the conference it was announced that Henry Watterson, former publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal, would be president of the organization, with Mr. Pepper as directing supervisor. It was said that many senators who have been active in opposition to approval of the league constitution would support the organization.

One purpose, it was explained, would be the co-ordination of local bodies that have been formed over the country in opposition to the league. Present plans call for establishment of a speakers' bureau and the conducting of an intensive campaign of publicity. Senators said the organization would be supported by voluntary contributions and that headquarters probably would be established at New York.

The goose that laid the golden egg is mythical but Mrs. C. C. Taylor of Bellefonte, Pa., preparing for the oven a goose purchased from a farmer, found in the fowl's gizzard a piece of yellow metal about the size of a nickel, worn entirely smooth, which the Bellefonte Trust company has decided is the remains of a $5 gold piece.

THE DUCK DOESN'T ADVERTISE

One of the best stories illustrating the value of advertising used to be told by the late Booker T. Washington.

"In every respect," Mr. Washington used to say, "the egg of the duck is as fine and nutritious as the egg of the hen, yet universally we find more hen eggs eaten and in fact there are very few ducks' eggs anywhere."

"Why," he would say, "the duck doesn't advertise. You and her neighbor off quietly and after she lays her egg she's mum as an ox. Not so with the hen. The hen advertises after she has laid her egg and the whole world calls her great. She has money enough to advertise."

It's a shrewd little story, isn't it? Who wants to be like a duck? Who is there with the overhead expenses of his place of business, divided in the amount of goods he sells, to say nothing of profits he intends to use to support his family, extend his business and provide a sinking fund—who thinks he can exist without newspaper advertising?

Don't be like the duck. She is all right and lays good eggs, but who knows it? Nobody. She doesn't advertise.

But she advertises. Arrange the goods attractively on shelves, out counters and in the show windows and after you greet the customer courteously at the door sell her merchandise plus service. But don't forget this: You can draw in customers to your door in goodly numbers by a display ad in

THE LEAGUE BOYCOTT

Any person of average intelligence who will put aside all such things as stir the emotions to the fight that has been fought and the victory that has been won, and who will read the proposed constitution of the League of Nations dispassionately, will be likely to arrive at this conclusion:

"Business is business."

For, with the object of maintaining peace, the penalty for violation is economic boycott, under said constitution.

The offending nation is not to be chubbied by an international policeman. It is to have its international business taken away.

Such is the crux of all the argument and conference as to that constitution. Grant that this is so, as plainly set forth by that constitution itself, and the thought of the average reader naturally runs along some such line as this:

The world has become accustomed to seeing organized business get what it goes after. Hence, it is reasonable to feel confident that internationally organized business would be a most powerful influence upon the business of any nation violating the terms and purposes of that constitution. But a boycott of the foreign business of a nation not only would stop that nation's export and import trade, but it would also have crushing and direct effect upon the little shop, factory or other individual enterprises of that nation, lowering wages while the cost of living rose, since raw materials are a most vital necessity to all the foreign nations.

It is to be expected that the common people of a nation are to have the say, hereafter, as to whether there shall or shall not be a war. The business boycott would hit them immediately and directly.

Conceding that the international trade boycott would do the trick, what is the outlook for the United States?

First thing that impresses us is the tremendous fact that we, of all the civilized nations, are the only nation that cannot be successfully boycotted. We are completely self-supporting, save as to coffee, rubber and some tin. Moreover, so necessary are our foods and raw material to the foreign nations that it would mean great calamity to any nation participating in a boycott of us. In other words, we would stand in the league the only nation that need not fear the high penalty of the league.

In such position, with such pre-eminence in world affairs—business affairs—the danger would seem to lie not in impairment of our national sovereignty, loss of grip on our Monroe Doctrine and such, but rather in getting intoxicated with our greatness.

Verily, it would seem that the nations of the earth in conclave at Paris, have solemnly decided that business is business, that the League of Nations is the instrument through which to maintain peace, and they have allied to Uncle Sam a role as dominating as that of the man who signs the checks in a financial institution, generally the most independent and reliable.

THE AUDITORIUM

In reference to the auditorium bill now before the legislature, it should be remembered that to cut down the amount of the proposed loan to any great extent or radically to modify the proposed method of appointing the commission, might defeat the purpose of the measure which is to provide a suitable memorial for the soldiers and sailors and, at the same time, a great convention hall that will remain forever for the use of the public and an attraction to outside bodies and organizations of various kinds to hold their conventions here. The aims of the men behind the movement are to honor our heroes in a way that will lift our city out of the unfavorable position it has held for many years past, in comparison with some of the other leading cities of the state.

It is time to do a few things that will be worth while and on a large scale. We may go on forever doing small things and we shall never lift our city to the level of those progressive municipalities that go ahead and do things that they know to be necessary and in the right direction. A little of the progressive enterprise shown by western cities would be of great benefit to Lowell. The plans contemplated for the auditorium are framed on such progressive lines. It is to be hoped that the legislature will not kill the project nor leave it subject to the vicissitudes of politics which might equally insure its failure.

SEC. LANE'S ADVICE

In view of the importance of the new movement known as "Americanization," in which Lowell holds a most prominent place, we feel we cannot render a better service to the cause than to give prominence to a recent utterance by Franklin T. Lane, secretary of the interior, on this subject.

It will be remembered that Sec. Lane is a leader in the movement to provide opportunities for the soldiers to live in the open by settling on farms, and at the same time to offer them a means of earning a respectable livelihood under fairly favorable conditions.

Here is what Mr. Lane says of Americanization and we commend its study and application to every man, woman and child in Lowell:

"It has never seemed to me that it was difficult to define Americanization or Americanism. I appreciate something, I admire something, I love something. I want you, my friends, my neighbors, to appreciate and admire and love that thing, too. That something is America."

"The process is not one of science; the process is one of humanity. But just as there is no way by which the breath of life can be put into a man's body, once it has gone out, so there is no manner by which, with all our wills, we can make an American out of a man who is not inspired by our ideals and there is no way by which we can make anyone feel that it is a blessed and splendid thing to be an American, unless we are ourselves aglow with the sacred fire, unless we interpret Americanism by our kindness, our courage, our generosity, our fairness."

"We have made countless sacrifices during this war: sacrifices of money and blood; sacrifices of time and effort and preference and prejudice. Much of that sacrifice shall be found vain if we do not prepare to draw to ourselves those later comers who are at once our opportunity and our responsibility and such responsibilities involve and fortify the noblest qualities of national character."

"There is in every one of us, however educated and polished, a secret, selfish, arrogant ego and there is in every one of us also a real nobility. In this war I could see that there came out immediately the finer man and that better self we must keep alive."

"We expect that man to search out his immigrant neighbor and say, 'I am your friend. Be mine as well. Let me share in the wisdom and instruct me in the arts and crafts you have brought from other lands and I shall help you succeed here.'"

"There is no difficulty in this, if our attitude is right. Americanism is entirely an attitude of mind; it is the way we look at things that makes us Americans."

Mr. Lane's advice, if followed, would soon overcome the chief obstacle to the assimilation of all classes of foreigners by removing from their minds the belief that they are opposed and despised by the American people among whom they live. They are to be disabused of this idea by sympathetic treatment that will lead them to join in our community and social life with a feeling of confidence instead of holding aloof on the supposition that they are looked upon with contempt by the people among whom they have to earn their livelihood.

DEBS A BOLSHIEVIST

Eugene B. Debs, who has been sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment on a charge of violating the espionage act, and for many years previously a prominent socialist leader, is still defiant in his attitude against the government and he even goes so far as to extol Lenin and Trotsky as the foremost statesmen of the age.

We hardly expected such extreme language from Debs, although we knew he was one of the most radical socialists in the country. When he was running as a candidate for president on the socialist ticket, some years ago, he spoke on the South common and pointed to the mills of Lowell as having been erected with money dishonestly extorted from the people. Mr. Debs never seemed to realize that men had to put their money into the industrial enterprises he thus assailed nor that many of the investors, instead of doubling their capital, lost it. The textile industries have their ups and downs same as other lines of business; but to say that all factories are built by money extorted from the people is characteristic of the socialist who seem to think that as soon as any man or woman accumulates a little wealth, it should be taken away and divided among the shiftless, thriftless, lazy, criminal loafers who go about preaching the overthrow of our government.

This recent utterance by Mr. Debs in favor of the Bolshevik leaders indicates that men of his class are really dangerous under present conditions and that they will have to be carefully watched by the police authorities of the country. It can be easily imagined how readily Mr. Debs would place himself at the head of a mob if he had the chance, and inaugurate a Bolshevik movement in this country. It must be remembered that there are many other men just like Debs and equally dangerous whom the government has not detected in any overt act. Nevertheless, being imbued with such ideas and with principles so much opposed to our system of government, they constitute a menace that must be held under continual restraint.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL

We are convinced that better results can be obtained in the construction of the new high school, if a suitable commission be appointed to take charge of the work. Without at all reflecting on Commissioner Marchand's ability as an administrator, it must be remembered that he is not a builder and that therefore, he is not qualified to direct such an important undertaking. The work has been delayed so long already, that it should be started now if ever, and in our opinion, the building department will have all it can attend to if it constructs the other new school buildings required in different parts of the city. There is a new school house needed in the Highlands and various schools need additions. In meeting these needs for increased school room, the building department will have all it can do for the present season without taking on the very complex problem of untangling the present high school mess.

The Boston Globe says, for the benefit of those it characterizes as being "fastidious" in regard to the money they handle, that it has been proven if persons will use a mild kind of soap and lukewarm water to wash paper money, they will be surprised at the change produced in the appearance of the money. Good advice and a good remedy, but more difficulty will be experienced by the majority of Globe readers in finding the third important commodity, the money itself.

It is said Queen Marie of Rumania is soon to visit the United States. She wants to know what are like over here and she is eager to tell us what Rumania in wartime has been like. Already the

No, there is said to be no connection or ground for believing that the Delaware woman who departed from New York for Denmark, using a small cowboat as her method of transportation, was inspired to start from New York because of having read about the "three wise men of Gotham" who went on a maritime joy ride in a bowl!

Harvard is distinctly late in recognizing the teaching ability of women professors, as the recent announcement that Dr. Alice Hamilton of Chicago has been named as assistant professor of industrial medicine at Harvard Medical school, shows. Like many another institution, Harvard undoubtedly has had some moss encased ideas on the subject of women, the shutting off of which may help the institution.

SEEN AND HEARD

The more you talk to some people, said Sam to me, the worse they get. Right-o, Sam.

The fact that Caruso had to pay an income tax of $154,000 has taken a big load off our minds. But the fact that that poor working girl, Mary Pickford, had to stand for was simply scandalous.

You know it wasn't long since that they talked about a bachelor tax and old maids in the newspaper game, reporters, paragraphers and periodical or spasmodic contributors, simply loved to harp on the question, and now, gold-demit, the government turns around and does that very thing via the income tax route. Single you have to pay 6 per cent. on everything over $1000. Married they don't touch you till you pass the $2000 mark. If that doesn't suit the bachelor tax purpose we'd like to know about it.

Right-O-Howells

A young author said to William Dean Howells at a reception in the latter's honor in Miami:

"That was Aetoribill who just asked you for your autograph, sir. You don't seem much impressed."

"I can never understand," said Mr. Howells, "why people should be impressed by millionaires. My own experience has been that whenever you lunch with them they always let you pay."

Mr. Howells laughed gayly.

"That, of course, is how they become millionaires, isn't it?" he said.—Washington Star.

Too Much for Him

This is the way the agent got a lesson in manners. He called at a business office and saw nobody but a prepossessing though capable young woman. "Where's the boss?" he asked abruptly.

"What is your business?" she asked politely.

"None of yours," he snapped. "I got a proposition to lay before this firm, and I want to talk to somebody about it."

"And you would rather talk to a gentleman?"

"Yes."

"Well," answered the lady, smiling sweetly, "so would I. But it seems that it's impossible for either one of us to have our wish, so we'll have to make the best of it. State your business please."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Gladys Was Cautious

Reference to a social gathering was made to the startling remarks occasionally exploded by the rising generation, and this anecdote was fittingly related by Congressman Charles P. Caldwell of New York:

One Sunday evening a young man called on the lady of his choice and found the entire family, as well as a couple of neighbors, assembled on the front porch. Taking a seat in the midst of the bunch he drew the little sister of his heart's desire toward him and placed her on his lap.

"How is that, Gladys?" he smilingly asked, as the youngster comfortably nestled against him. "Do you like to sit here?"

"Yes," frankly admitted Gladys, "and say, Mr. Smith."

"What is it, Gladys?" encouragingly responded Mr. Smith.

"I just wanted to ask you," was the youngster's startling rejoinder, "if I am as heavy as sister Minnie?"—Philadelphia Telegraph.

New Women of Italy

She has not yet adopted the extreme methods of Anglo-Saxons. Her war is not so much waged against the tramwells that have bound her soul in Italy for centuries and that still grind her now as it is against the evils of society. This war she has entered upon with an energy that is surprising, a quarter of a century ago there were no schools of higher education for women in Italy. Today she studies side by side with men in the gymnasium, the lyceum and the university. A woman doctor or lawyer was unheard of. There are many in the making now. A few years ago I attended the international congress of women in Rome. "The Italian woman," thought I, "will be quite behind those delegates who come from America and England, from France, Germany and Russia." In this I made a mistake. For the Italian women took their part, presiding with dignity, discussing all moral questions, all matters dealing with public reforms, with the education of their children, with the liquor habit and vice, in a broad-spirited manner. They are working in the prisons, among the fallen and disgraced. They are stepping out of the almost monastic seclusion of former generations and are taking front rank. The men acknowledged their right to think and act for themselves. The League club for Women in Rome, allied with the London League club and those of other European cities, has hundreds of members. Literature, philanthropy, reforms, patriotism, art and music are among its sections.—World Outlook Magazine.

Passers

Out of the big wide world they come and pause for a word, and go on into the world again, and gone as the leaves that blow Down airy lanes, and their names fade but if they have brought a smile.

Then a memory of them outstays their name and stays for the longest while. And you are glad that they climbed the stairs to get to your little den. And there's a sweetness you know not for when they have gone on again: They bring you stories of distant lands and stories of foreign ways.

And some are old and they tell you tales of love of their far-gone days.

And one comes to you to tell you things of a boy that he had—when he died.

And another comes with a failure tale and he failed though he tried and tried.

But he believes he will win out yet, and smiles as he leaves your den. With a courage that never tempered steel, a courage to try again.

And so they come, and muffle for a word, and turn to the door and go!

And some of them bring you tales of joy, but most of them tales of woe; For when they have won a little bit with your grip and your hand, they go!

But how men grope for a kindly hand when all of the world looks blue!

And that's what makes it a good old world, the fellows who come and pass. Some look on life as a drunkard looks deep into his empty glass.

And some are glad, and it takes all kinds to make up the world of men.

And it is good that they turn aside to speak as they pass your den; And maybe you help them a little bit with your grip and your hand, and go!

And maybe, though you don't know quite how, they've been of some help to you.

But, anyhow, here's luck to them who come as the wild leaves blow Out of the big wide world, and pause for a "Howdy?" and turn and go.

Judd Mortimer Lewis, in Houston Post.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

To be sure the traffic between Lowell and Boston via the Bay State lines has probably dropped 50 per cent since the general public began to get wise to the fact that now there is only 13 cents difference between the price of a ticket on the Boston &amp; Maine and the tariff one pays on the Bay State but with due regard to this fact I have no doubt the people who do take the car ride between Lowell and Boston will be interested to know that the Boston terminal of the Reading-Boston line will be changed tomorrow. Cars both from Lawrence and from Lowell will discharge and take on their passengers at the new Everett L station, which will be put in use after many months of delay tomorrow. This new innovation, of course, also holds true for the Wakefield-Boston line of Bay State cars. The cars operating between Boston and Stoneham and Boston and Woburn of course will use the Sullivan Square terminal. We would think that with this new system in vogue the running time between Lowell and Boston would be reduced five or ten minutes. It will be a good thing if it is reduced that much.

The Sun received a letter from a lady munition worker in which she alleged that a number of factories had rejected her application for a job after learning where she was formerly employed. I cannot believe that any factory would refuse employment to any girl merely because she was a munition worker during the war unless it was supposed that she earned so much as a munition worker that she would never be satisfied with the wages paid in the mills.

Fred Fournier, assistant Lowell agency superintendent for the Prudential Insurance company, which has a large office in the Sun building, has returned from the sad errand of attending the funeral of his father recently held at his home, Concord, Vt. While we are experiencing what might almost be termed spring weather here in Lowell with no snow on the ground and hardly any frost, Mr. Fournier says the case up in the Vermont hills town is very much different. Concord has three feet of snow at the present

Relieve Your Indigestion With A Laxative

Dyspeptics know that indigestion is accompanied by constipation, and that until the bowels can be regulated so they will act freely and naturally every day at a stated time, swallowing dyspepsia tablets is of little use.

A great and growing number of sufferers from this trouble find immediate and then permanent relief by the use of a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The laxative herbs act on the bowels and the pepsin and extracts on the digestive tract, forming an exceptionally effective laxative tonic.

It is a combination that has been found wonderfully helpful in indigestion, constipation, biliousness, headaches, bad breath, belching and gas on the stomach. A small dose is all that is required.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

PRICE AS ALWAYS

In spite of greatly increased laboratory costs due to the War, by sacrificing profits and absorbing war taxes we have maintained the price at which this family laxative has been sold by druggists for the past 26 years. Two sizes—50c and $1.00.

FINANCIAL BLOCKADE OF GERMANY TO BE LIFTED

PARIS, Thursday, March 13.—(By the Associated Press).—The financial blockade against Germany is expected to be lifted as a result of negotiations going on at Brussels. This blockade was applied at the same time as the commercial blockade, all international money centers being informed that any loans to Germany would result in the termination of their financial relations with the allies. Neutral bankers furnishing funds to Germany were similarly blacklisted and the result has been to virtually shut out Germany from the money markets of the world. By raising the blockade, neutral money markets will be opened to Germany as a means of obtaining loans for payments for food.

CREEL TALKS OF WORK

Publicity Bureau's Domestic Work Self-Sustaining—No Differences With Wilson

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Settlement of the accounts of the committee on public information, now being made, will show that the committee's domestic work was virtually self-sustaining, according to George Creel, chairman of the committee. He returned several days ago from Europe after spending several months closing up the committee's affairs. Today he resigned as chairman of the committee. President Wilson, he said, had not yet accepted his resignation.

Of the original appropriation of $1,250,000 for the committee's domestic work, Mr. Creel said, about $300,000 remained unexpended. About $400,000, he said, had been made from motion pictures and war exhibitions and paid into the treasury and about $250,000 more would come from this source. He said it might be interesting to learn that the derided official bulletin had taken in $84,291 in subscriptions. Additional sums will be realized from the sale of furniture and fixtures belonging to the committee.

He said he had made no plans for his further activities but meant to take an active interest in political affairs. He added it would not be as an office seeker, "but much as a humble assistant in the delousing process of which our public life stands in need."

He characterized reports of differences with President Wilson as "so false as to be absurd." He said that it was on the other hand his greatest pride, that he could say that from the first to the last he "had only faith, confidence and the most inspiring support from the president."

In discussing the peace conference, he asserted that he kept his pledge made before going abroad, that he would have nothing to do with the conference or its publicity.

"The amazing situation developed," he added, "that the very correspondents who were most fearful of my 'secret control' were eventually quarreling with me for my steadfast refusal to act as their 'wet nurse'."

He denied that the American government since the opening of the peace conference had exercised any censorship over news matter between Europe and the United States. He said that although the French and British censorships were still in operation, nothing had been done by this government to prevent criticism of President Wilson and his policies from reaching the European press, or to prevent the sending to the United States of any news correspondents saw fit to transmit.

HOLD IN $20,000

CAMBRIDGE, March 14.—Albert Hirsch, alleged to be the ninth of the automobile bandits implicated in the holding, robbery and attempted murder of Frank R. Brown, paymaster of the General Electric Co., at Everett, Dec. 20, was arraigned in the superior court today on charges of conspiracy, assault with intent to murder and robbery, while armed. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $20,000 for trial.

PARIS PRESS WELCOMES SEC. LANSING'S SPEECH

LONDON, Thursday, March 13.—Commenting upon Secretary Lansing's address at Paris on Tuesday night, in which a plea was made for supplying Germany with food, the Chronicle says: "The crucial difficulty is tonnage and the only way of quickly expanding the available tonnage is for the United States to restore to inter-allied use American shipping, which she withdrew last autumn. We especially welcome Mr. Lansing's speech, because it ought to mean, if it means anything, that a substantial part of this tonnage, which went to the South American trade, will once more be at the service of starving Europe."

SAYS O'LEARY DID NOT DINE WITH ROEDIGER

NEW YORK, March 14.—Sur-rebuttal was begun today in the trial of Jeremiah A. O'Leary. The defense called Joseph Auerbach, proprietor of a restaurant, in which O'Leary and Carl Roediger, co-defendant with him in indictments for treason, were declared by a government witness to have dined together. Auerbach said Roediger had been in his place and that he had seen O'Leary somewhere, but not with Roediger.

Several waiters testified that they had never seen O'Leary in the restaurant. The defendant, recalled to the stand, asserted he had never visited the place.

NO DIVIDEND BY CALUMET & HECLA
BOSTON, March 14.—"At the meeting of the directors of the Calumet & Hecla Mining Co., held today, owing to the unsettled condition of the copper industry, no action was taken in regard to a dividend," said a statement given out at the office of the company here.

The last dividend, paid three months ago, was $15 a share. During the year 1918, a total of $69 a share was paid in dividends.

CHERRY & WEBB'S BIG ALTERATION SALE
The large ad of Cherry & Webb that appeared in yesterday's paper showed a variety of cuts of ladies' gowns and dresses that are considered up to the minute in every requirement and while there is an opportunity for getting ladies' wear in this store at great values at all times, the manager, Mr. Emmott, on this occasion has decided to put the axe in war prices deeper than ever before at a special sale. He has purchased a special variety of high grade costumes at prices that are unheard of for the style and quality offered. A variety of ten different styles can be purchased at this wonderful great mark down sale of $29 each.

The carpenters and other workmen are improving the appearance of the store and just now are putting in a new and larger French plate glass front and in proceeding this work they have somewhat interfered with the convenient conditions that have always been a special feature at this popular store, but this has caused the manager to cut prices all the deeper.

There never was a sale perhaps in this city where greater special values were given, and the alteration is responsible for this wonderful slashing of prices. It's an ill wind that blows no good, and when you consider what you can receive in value from these alteration prices you would almost wish that alterations were always in progress at this popular store.

This sale will last only a very short time, as the goods will certainly be disposed of with a rush.

The patrons of this store will be well repaid in the value received in the great bargains offered in this sale. If you prize rare values, you cannot afford to miss this special $29 sale now going on. You have read the Cherry & Webb big ad in yesterday's paper and now call to see how true was every statement made therein. A dollar saved is as good as two earned. Go and save the dollar today or tomorrow (Saturday).

BAR DANCING IN BERLIN.
LONDON, March 14.—According to a German wireless despatch received last night there has been no important change in the situation in Berlin during the past 24 hours.

A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Copenhagen, says that on demand of the Majority Socialist prohibition against dancing has been issued in Berlin. The despatch adds that during the week while women and children were being murdered dancing revels in fancy dress were engaged in on the streets.

IT WILL BE "SOME PARTY"
The party to be held at Lincoln hall, March 15th, St. Patrick's night, has been arranged to be the leader of the year. The most promising feature is a good time by having dance ensembles who are conducting this wonderful affair. Mr. Harry Keyes allows that he has arranged the "best ever" dance order for the party.

EVERY LITTLE BIT HELPS.
As a result of an accident between an automobile of the water department and a machine of the International Steel & Ordnance Co., on Jan. 11, Commissioner Morse today received a check for $115 from A. R. Polycy, chief auditor for the U. S. Casualty Co.

Commissioner Morse is also deriving additional revenue from the sale of horses of the department. Three of the animals were sold yesterday at public auction and brought a total of $200 or $15, $85 and $60, respectively.

of the bolshevik. The latter are threatening the Polish front and have powerful organization at Vienna with unlimited funds for propaganda work, which is under direction of Adolf Joffe, formerly bolshevik ambassador at Berlin. It is believed that a strong military zone in Poland, between Russia and Germany, with food relief, offers the surest means of holding back the bolshevik advance. Under American care, the Russian prisoners are in reasonably good condition, with adequate food and little sickness and mortality. Steps will probably be taken to return them to Russia by way of the Black sea or by other routes, so as to avoid forcing them into the bolshevik ranks.

PALESTINE RESTORATION DRIVE IN LOWELL

The opening gun of the Palestine Restoration drive in Lowell was fired last evening at Memorial hall, when an audience which packed the spacious hall to overflowing heard talented local and out-of-town speakers tell of the need of funds to further the establishment of a Jewish state in Palestine. America's Jewish citizens are asked to contribute $3,000,000 for this purpose, and Lowell's quota has been set at $5000.

Samuel Silverblatt, chairman of the Zionist organization in this city, was the first speaker. He first spoke of the beginning of the Zionist movement in America. Twenty years ago Theodore Herzl conceived the idea of uniting the Jews in a world-wide Zionist organization, raising a fund to purchase Palestine from Turkey, and establishing a Jewish state under the suzerainty of that country.

Although Herzl did not accomplish all he hoped for, he did bring about the organization of all Jews throughout the world for the purpose of re-establishing their homeland, and also the establishment of the Anglo-Palestine bank which assisted materially in the development of the natural resources of Palestine.

The speaker then referred to the breaking out of the great war, and to the so-called Balfour declaration in 1917, which in substance provided that the English government recognized the rights of the Jews to acquire Palestine and establish a home of their own. Other powers followed suit in this matter, and only last week President Wilson expressed his entire agreement with the Balfour declaration.

He spoke of the group of men who addressed a petition to the peace conference objecting to the establishment of a Jewish state in Palestine. These constitute only a small majority of the thinking people of the country, the speaker said, and should not give any of the adherents of the Zionist cause the least alarm. There has been only one argument advanced by these so-called objectors, and that is that if a Jewish state is formed in Palestine it will mean divided allegiance on the part of the Jews in this country.

This is not the truth. The idea of a homeland in Palestine no more conflicts with the loyalty and duties of the American Jews as citizens of this country, than the aspirations of the Poles, Syrians or Armenians, or any of the other small nations which are asking for an independent home of their own. It simply means an opportunity to Jews throughout the world who have been persecuted in other lands to acquire a home where they can be free and independent.

The speaker then spoke of the need of money for the reclamation work which must be done in Palestine. A commission has been formed to make surveys, establish schools, provide proper sanitation, in fact to bring the comforts and conveniences of this country and other civilized lands to the new home that is to be. For this work a fund of $3,000,000 has been asked and Lowell's share is $5000. The speaker asked his audience to give according to their means, and not to allow it to be said that Lowell, the city that always went over the top in all the big campaigns of the past, would be found wanting when the drive closes one week from today.

Mr. Silverblatt then introduced His Honor Mayor Perry D. Thompson, who spoke briefly on the work to be done. If Lowell's quota is to be raised successfully, he said that the presiding officer having told all about conditions in Palestine there seemed little left for him to add, except to speak words of encouragement. He endorsed the cause as a righteous one, and said there is no occasion for fear, but that the Jew in Palestine, in his native country, will maintain a government that will do credit not only to the race, but will be a standard for the world.

Dr. Eichler of Boston, who is well known to Lowell people, was the next speaker. He spoke of the aims of the campaign, and then asked his hearers to imagine the misery of a man without a country, as illustrated in the story of Edward Everett Hale, and then to think what it means when a whole nation, millions of people, are condemned to be homeless, driven from one land to another, a people without a country. He also spoke of the Jews who are opposed to the forming of a homeland, and branded them as traitors of the darkest type.

The last and principal speaker was Rev. H. Mastiansky, of New York, one of the most renowned Jewish speakers of the day. He addressed the people in their own language, and after telling of the vast amount of work which must be done in order to make Palestine habitable for civilized people, he appealed earnestly for the funds to make the work possible. He expressed the opinion that Lowell Jews, who stood ready and willing to give their money and their sons to Uncle Sam when the call came, would also be found ready to give that their own countrymen throughout the world might have a place which they could indeed call home.

NO MORE SKATING

The skating season in Lowell for the present season made its exit today when employees of the water department began letting out the water from Shedd park. Residents of the vicinity of the park have been complaining since the ice at the park began to soften up, that water was overflowing their cellars and accordingly the park department officials thought it best to call the skating season off.

CLOSE EMPLOYMENT BUREAU HERE

The Lowell Employment Bureau will be discontinued March 22, according to a communication from Federal Director Everett W. Lord, which was received today by Examiner Cronin of the local bureau.

The letter states that owing to the failure of congress to allow the appropriation which was necessary to the maintenance of the service, all offices of the United States employment service are ordered closed on this date for a period of at least three months, at which time it is thought that the senate will ratify the bill already voted by congress to maintain and continue the service indefinitely.

Examiner Cronin told The Sun that this ruling does not affect the soldiers and sailors employment bureau which has been established in connection with the local employment office, and this department will continue as heretofore, for the benefit of the returning men who went away to do or die for Uncle Sam.

A resume of the activities of the Lowell office since its inception in August shows a record second to none. Over 1500 persons have been placed in profitable employment by the bureau in that period, the month of February alone showing 100 placements out of 1022 vacancies, and this in spite of the fact that the employment situation is worse at present than at any time in the past five years.

These figures do not allow for the soldiers and sailors who have been placed in positions by the office. A large majority of the homecoming boys have been forced to apply to Examiner Cronin for work upon their return home, and in most cases have been placed in the ranks of industry in a short time.

MAJOR CARROLL SWAN

Member of 101st Engineers
Addresses Men's Club of
Grace Universalist Church

Major Carroll J. Swan of the 101st Engineers, 26th Division, entertained the members of the Men's club at the Grace Universalist church last night with a most interesting recital of his overseas experiences with the boys from Massachusetts.

Major Swan went across in command of engineers and was with the Yankee division through all its fighting. Last autumn he was ordered home for service as an instructor. He arrived in this country just at the time when the order prohibiting American soldiers from publishing accounts of their experiences was revoked, and he immediately published his in book form under the title, "My Country." It was the first story of the great allied counter-drive written by an American officer, and as such has been widely read.

Major Swan's talk last evening covered the activities of his regiment over practically all of the fronts where it saw service. The Twenty-sixth was the first full unit to take over a complete sector and pierce the Boche lines. "There were 27,000 stout-hearted boys in that division," said Major Swan, "and every one of them showed real stuff when it came to fighting. They were commanded by men who won distinction and for whom the boys would give their last drop of blood. Our leader, General Edwards, was loved and respected by all, and there wasn't a man in the outfit who would not have gone the limit for him."

Major Swan spoke of the excellent morality of the American soldier and characterized him as "the cleanest living man at the front." "And when they come back," he continued, "give them a helping hand and be sure to see that their jobs are open for them. They richly deserve it. Also don't forget the boy with the silver service chevrons, for although he was not given the opportunity to go across, he is entitled to just as much consideration. Make no distinction."

Look at Child's Tongue if Sick, Cross, Feverish

Hurry, Mother! Remove Poisons From Little Stomach, Liver, Bowels

Give "California Syrup of Figs" At Once if Bilious or Constipated

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without cramping, and you have a well-playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative," they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

SERGT. DOUGLASS HOME BUILD FISHWAYS HERE ON FURLOUGH AND AT LAWRENCE

Sergt. Harry L. Douglass of the 101st Engineers, 28th division, has returned to the home of his brother, Horace L. Douglass, 159 Grand street, for a short furlough. Sergt. Douglass was ordered home from France a convalescent and landed in New York city, Feb. 27. He was ordered to Debarbation hospital, No. 3, suffering from severe gasping and also a wound in his left leg caused by shrapnel. On March 10 he was ordered to Camp Devens.

He served in France 15 months and participated in a large number of battles with the 26th. He received his gassing at Chateau Thierry and Argonne. He was wounded while serving in the Toul sector. He has been awarded the Croix de guerre for distinguished action in the front line. Previous to the entry of this country into the world war, Sergt. Douglass served an enlistment with the 14th U. S. cavalry and was stationed at the Mexican border for 14 months. He received an honorable discharge in February, 1917, and enlisted in the First Corps Cavalry, now the 101st Engineers.

Sergt. Douglass comes from a fighting family. His grandfather served during the Civil war, his father was 27 years in the regular army and lost his life in the Philippines in 1910, and his brother, Horace, served six years in the regular army and was for a time stationed in Lowell as recruiting officer. Sergt. Douglass expects to receive his discharge in a short time and resume civilian life.

DIRECTORS OF THE SPRINGFIELD BREWERIES CO. ACT TO CLOSE OUT BUSINESS.

SPRINGFIELD, March 14.—Directors of the Springfield Breweries Co. last night declared a dividend of 36 per cent. on stock and also voted to buy in all bonds. This action is claimed to be the final step toward closing out business in view of approaching prohibition.

The Sun prints the news of the world when it is news and only such news as is fit to print. It is a clean family newspaper.

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, March 14.—The legislative committee on fisheries and game reported in the senate today a bill directing the commissioners on fisheries and game to proceed at once with the construction of fishways in the Merrimack river at Lawrence and Lowell. The bill reported provides that:

"The board of commissioners on fisheries and game acting under the powers now vested in them by law in relation to fishways, are hereby directed, during the current year, to provide, re-establish or construct suitable and sufficient fishways on the Merrimack river at Lawrence and Lowell. The damage and expense incurred hereunder shall, in accordance with the provisions of law and of this act, be borne by the owners of the dam located at said points on said river but the said commissioners are hereby authorized to enter into an agreement with the owners of said dam whereby such portion, if any, of the said damage or expense as the commissioners may deem equitable, shall be assumed and paid by the commonwealth."

"Said commissioners are hereby authorized to expend from the treasury of the commonwealth, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, a sum not exceeding $15,000 in addition to any sum that may be contributed for said purpose by any individual association or municipality. All receipts and expenditures made hereunder shall be set forth in the succeeding annual report of said commissioners."

"Nothing contained in this act and no action of the commissioners hereunder shall be construed as a waiver or release on the part of the commonwealth of its right to compel the owners of said dams to construct and maintain said fishways, nor shall anything in this act, nor any action of the commissioners hereunder, be so construed as to impair the legal rights or remedies of any person or corporation."

Without debate, the house passed to be engrossed the bill permitting the trustees of the Lowell Textile school to insure their buildings and property

The Lowell Charter

The committee on cities filed in the house a recommendation that Representative Thomas Corbett's bill to amend the Lowell charter be referred to the next general court.

Election County Officers

A bill providing that all county officers shall hereafter be elected for four year terms was reported today by the committee on election laws.

Because of the adoption by the people of the biennial elections amendment, it is necessary for the legislature to provide that all public officers of the state and of the various counties shall be elected either for two years or for multiples of two years. It had been expected that those now elected for three years, except county commissioners, would be elected for four years, and that those now elected for five years would hereafter be elected for six years. The committee decided, however, to put them all on an equal basis of four years.

The new plan is likely to cause some confusion, especially in the case of county commissioners, because it is apparent that with three commissioners to be elected at two elections in the course of four years, it will be necessary to elect two at one of the elections.

By a vote of 71 to 61, the house ordered to a third reading a bill providing that "Manufacturers of any article produced in this commonwealth which is intended for export to a foreign country shall mark, either on the article or on the package in which it is shipped, the following words: 'Made in Massachusetts, U.S.A.' Violations of the proposed law are made punishable by a fine of not more than $50 for each offence."

Several manufacturers who are members of the house protested against the bill, declaring that it would ruin their business. Mr. Underhill of Somerville said some of the "third-rate" stuff produced in Massachusetts is so poor that the state should not be willing to own it.

Two-Platoon Bill
By a vote of 14 to 1, the committee on cities decided to file a favorable report on the two-platoon bill for fire departments in cities. The bill provides that whenever ten per cent. of the legal voters in any city file a petition therefor, the question of establishing the system shall be placed upon the ballot and if a majority of the voters voting on the question approve it, the system is to be established immediately. House Chairman Wood-ill of Melrose will oppose the bill.

Auto Registration Fees
Practically all of the automobile associations in the state registered their opposition to the bill of Mayor Peters of Boston, providing that the fees now exacted for the registration of automobiles shall be trebled. They said they are willing to submit to double taxation if it does not become excessive, but to increase the present fees as is proposed they thought would be adding insult to injury.

Adverse reports were filed today on bills to require the bonding of jitney operators, for the protection of passengers, and to require disinfecting and cleansing of street railway cars after each trip.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Below is what the press agents of the different theatres say of the current attractions and of others to come later.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The reception to Miss Louise Girard Huntington, to be held after the matinee performance on Saturday, will surely attract a large number of her friends and admirers. "Broken Threads," the week's offering by the Emerson All Star Players, is an excellent stock production. The play itself is interesting. The players seem to fit to their parts well and the staging of the piece reflects creditably on Director Glassmire. You'll surely like it. Only a few choice seats left for the remaining performances.

Next week "Woman Against Woman," a play in which two women battle for their prize—a man. See Matie

Salisbury and Miss Huntington in the principal characters, assisted by Julian Noa and Arthur Buchanan. The latter is said to be assigned to one of his most amusing roles.

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Character delineations that are unique and there are most thorough are provided by Lillian Shaw at the H. F. Keith theatre, this week. Miss Shaw certainly surpasses any woman who has appeared here in many months, and she is attracting very large audiences to the theatre this week. Her February types are perhaps her best, although an Italian number meets with real approval. "Love, Honor and Obedience" in which W. H. Macart and Ellynnne Brumford are appearing, is a comedy with some real situations in it. Mr. Macart is an actor of a school which numbers not too many members today. His work is finished and convincing. The Wilton Sisters are recalled again and again. The Three Buddies are pantomimists of a high order, and the Curzon Sisters did the rough the air in their beautiful maxillary act. Wallace & Drew in a neat little skit, and Swift & Daley is a novelty musical act make up the remainder of the bill.

THE STRAND

"Woman, Woman" the vehicle of entertainment starring Evelyn Nesbit, is being shown with marked success at The Strand. The picture story is wonderfully interesting, and the star is given unusual opportunity to reflect her exceptional ability. The foundation on which the story is placed is the heroine's sacrifice for her good name to a wealthy jeweler, who is infatuated with her, in order to obtain enough to help care for her dying husband. Complications follow and a big climax comes at the close. Virginia Pearson, the emotional star of the screen, in "The Love Auction" is the other feature. You can't help liking and admiring the wonderfully clever work of the star in this offering. The star, in the role of the young woman who is courted by two men, who sells herself to the man who bids the highest sum in money instead of the man who offers the greatest love, gives a most interesting portrayal. Ray Hughes, impersonator, was unable to fill his engagement on account of sickness. Lieut. W. C. MacBrayne, Lowell's war hero, holder of the coveted croix de guerre and the distinguished war cross, will give a talk at The Strand Sunday afternoon and night on "The Lowell Boys of the 26th." He will also review some of his own personal experiences. No local man knows war as does Lieut. MacBrayne.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A regular meeting of the members of Highland Veritas lodge, F. O. O. F., was held last evening with a large attendance. A large amount of routine business was transacted and the committee on the 100th anniversary celebration reported progress in its plans. It was voted to extend an invitation to the district deputy grand master and suite to attend the celebration.

Lowell Socialists.

The members of the American branch of the Lowell Socialists held their regular meeting at 22 Middle street last evening. Routine business was transacted and it was voted to hold a mass meeting to aid the Lawrence strikers, Mar. 23, and it was announced that prominent speakers from Boston and Lawrence will be secured for the occasion.

CARDINAL TO AID HEALTH CAMPAIGN

BOSTON, March 14.—Cardinal O'Connell, upon his return to Boston yesterday, offered his full co-operation in the $270,000 health campaign for the Boston dispensary, Baby Hygiene association and District Nursing association. In a letter to Miss Dorothy Forbes, vice chairman of the campaign committee, enclosing his check for $50, he said:

"I regret to hear that the committee in charge of the campaign is finding it difficult to raise the amount contemplated, and I earnestly hope that during the next few days the efforts of the committee will be far more successful. Of course there have been many calls upon the generosity of everybody for the last four years, nevertheless, it seems to me that when the public realizes, and I am sure it will, the good services which the Boston dispensary, the Baby Hygiene association and the Instructive District Nursing association are rendering, it will not withhold the little which is necessary for the upkeep of these activities. I was sorry to have missed you when you called yesterday, and I hope it will not be the cause of discouraging you from coming to see me any time during the campaign I may be of service."

Despite the fact that a total subscription of only $23,000 has been reported at the Health Campaign Headquarters, 95 Milk street, the campaign committee is optimistic that the $270,000 will be raised.

Andrew Miller, a Youngstown, O., farmer has made a fortune out of horse-racing, of which he raises and sells so much that recently he received a car-load of bottles in which to put up his product.

Council Gives Hearing on Petition For School in Highlands

Declarations that the school board had assumed a "bullying attitude" and that the members would never change their minds were among the features of the hearing which the municipal council gave to petitioners for a new school in the Highlands near Tyler park rather than an annex to the present Morey school, at city hall last evening.

A few weeks ago the school board gave a hearing on the two petitions, signed by G. E. Putnam and Benjamin Staveland and others, and made an adverse report. The petitioners later asked that the municipal council give a hearing and the request was granted. The meeting was called to order at 7:35. The attendance was not large. Clinton P. Tuttle was the first speaker and he said that there was no modern concrete school building in the city at the present time. He maintained that if it should be decided to erect an addition to the Morey school. He said that there was plenty of land in the vicinity of Tyler park assessed for a cent a foot. The present attitude of the school committee he characterized as "bullying."

Mayor Thompson said that the speaker didn't give a remedy. The school committee had recommended the only thing the council could do would be to refuse to give the committee money. Mr. Webster said that that was just what the petitioners wanted.

Commissioner Murphy wanted to know if the people of the Highlands would justify the council in taking such an action. Mr. Webster replied in the affirmative.

Commissioner Morse was of the opinion that within 10 years there would be sufficient increase in population in the center Highland district to demand a new school regardless of whether an annex is built now.

Fred O. Lewis stated that the Morey school would be a grotesque looking affair if an addition were put on to it. He didn't believe that the full membership of the school committee was in favor of an addition. Incidentally, he remarked that with one exception none of the members of the school board could have been elected without the votes of ward 3.

David Latham and Mrs. Sarah Condit also spoke in favor of the petition and told of the inconvenience caused their children by having to walk from Middlesex village to the Morey school. The hearing closed at 9:10 p. m., the council taking the matter under advisement.

O.M.I. CADETS

There will be a meeting of the O.M.I. Cadets at their armory tonight at 7:30 o'clock, and much important business, including plans for Battalion night, will be discussed. A change is to be tried this year, when one company instead of three will appear in the drill on battalion night. Consequently elimination drills will be held from now until the prize company is selected. The first drill will be held tonight and hence it is expected that all members and officers will be present.

ADOPT AERIAL TERMS

Germany Must Give Up All Aircraft and Cease Production Till Peace Is Signed

PARIS, March 14.—Germany must deliver all airplanes to the allies and must prohibit the construction of other airplanes until the conclusion of peace. The supreme war council declared today in adopting the aerial terms to be imposed on Germany in the preliminary peace. The terms do not decide the future fate of the airplanes which may either be destroyed or divided among the allies. The British and American delegates brought up the question of a distinction between commercial aerial navigation, which will be authorized for Germany after conclusion of peace under certain guarantees and military aerial navigation which will be prohibited. The council decided to send an aeronautic commission to Germany to investigate the question of commercial navigation. Deputy Aubigny of the French chamber will be chairman.

AUTO VS. ELECTRIC CAR
A Buick automobile owned by Fred B. Emerson and operated by a chauffeur, collided with an electric car at the junction of Westford and Howard streets at about 8 o'clock this morning.

and although the machine was damaged to some extent, no one was injured. The automobile was being driven up Howard street and when Westford street was reached it ran in the path of an outbound car in charge of Motorman Michael Harvey. The auto was struck on the side of the running board and nearly turned over. One of the rear wheels was smashed. The electric car was not damaged.

EXPLAINED PROCESS OF REGISTRATION

John P. Farley, formerly chairman of the board of registrars, addressed the civics class of the League of Catholic Women yesterday afternoon on the subject of registration. He explained laws governing immigration, naturalization and registration and the difference between federal and state laws. The importance of registration and the ways and means of performing the function were emphasized. The speaker showed the necessity of instructing the newly naturalized citizen in the duties of citizenship and said that only by being properly registered would he have the right to vote or to have a voice in the government.

Problems suggested by Judge Enright's talk on naturalization last week were discussed with Mr. Farley by members of the class. The lecture proved most interesting and instructive.

live as Mr. Farley's experience in the work gave him an intimate knowledge of his subject. The next lecture in the course will be given Thursday afternoon by William P. Barry on "Government."

Pres. Wilson Returning to Peace Conference After Trip to U.S. Arrived in Paris Today

PARIS, March 14.—President Wilson returned to the peace conference after his trip to the United States, arrived in Paris shortly after noon today.

Although the time of the president's arrival had not been made public, a great crowd had gathered at the Invalides station at 11 o'clock. The station was decorated with flowers and flags and the 21st French regiment was on hand to do military honors.

The president's train which had been delayed on the way from Brest, reached the Invalides station at 12:07 o'clock. The return of President Wilson is welcomed by the morning newspapers in editorials.

Resolved to Wind Up War.

The Journal says that it means early and positive results from the peace conference, adding: "There is no doubt the president comes back with the full resolve to wind up the war promptly."

The editorial writers are also occupied with the present state of public opinion in America. The Figaro says that the United States by sharing in the war and by the prominent role it is playing at the peace conference has become one of the principal actors in European and world politics. It adds: "making all allowances for internal political quarrels in America, it may be said that President Wilson's policy in its main lines is approved by a majority of his fellow citizens. Many of them, it is true, ask modifications of the League of Nations plan, but, after all at the present time, it is only a draft of the text."

BERNSTORFF NOT GERMAN DELEGATE

WEIMAR, March 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—All the German delegates to the peace conference will be on an equal footing, although Count von Bernstorff-Rantzenau, the foreign minister, will be their leader. The party will not have the power to make final decisions, that being vested in the cabinet.

The selection of the delegates was reached at a long cabinet meeting. True to President Bernstorff's announcement at the time of his election, Count von Bernstorff will not be a delegate, although there has been great pressure brought to bear to have him named. This was partly frustrated by information received from abroad through Americans here that the choice of Bernstorff would probably be rejected by the entente powers. It was only about a month ago that he was openly planning to go. Those around him had to be convinced it would be a grave mistake on Germany's part to appoint him.

The date of the departure of the delegates is not fixed. March 20 has been frequently mentioned as the date for the preliminary peace conference. The appointment of Count von Bernstorff-Rantzenau, Dr. Eduard David and even Max Warburg, was no surprise, since they had been frequently mentioned, but that of Herr Geisberg, minister of posts and telegraphs in the Prussian ministry, was unexpected.

GERMANY MUST GIVE UP TSING-TAO

PARIS, March 11 (By the Associated Press).—The supreme council of the peace conference has virtually decided to include in the preliminary treaty of peace, a requirement that Germany shall relinquish her lease hold of Tsing-Tao and all properties and concessions on the Shantung peninsula. No attempt, it is understood, will be made at present to render a decision as to the ultimate possession of Germany's rights, which is now the subject of a controversy between the Japanese and Chinese delegations. It is expected that the final adjustment will be made in the definite peace treaty or by the League of Nations, unless, in the meantime, the principals to the controversy reach an agreement.

WOULD HOLD LABOR CONFERENCE IN U. S.

PARIS, Thursday, March 13.—The official communiqué of the international labor conference, issued tonight, embodying the decision of the commission to recommend that the first meeting of the international labor conference be held at Washington in October, reads in part as follows:

"The commission proceeded to discuss the arrangements for the first meeting of the international labor conference in October and decided to recommend to the peace conference that it should be held in Washington if the government of the United States would consent to convene it. The necessary preparations will be placed in the hands of an international committee."

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is head of the commission.

Japanese Soldiers Attack American Marines With Fixed Bayonets

PEKING, Thursday, March 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—American marines have raided the Japanese concession at Tien-Tsin, forcing their way into the Japanese consulate and assaulting the consul, according to dispatches received here.

The trouble is said to have been caused by the rough treatment given American soldiers who became disorderly in the Japanese quarter of the city. Japanese soldiers drove out the Americans with fixed bayonets, it is said, wounding two of them quite seriously. The next day, 200 angry marines were sent off duty, paraded through the Japanese concession, and it is alleged, they attacked every Japanese encountered. When the marines reached the consulate, they forcibly entered it, it is reported, and assaulted the consul, whose injuries are understood to be serious.

The consular body is deliberating on measures to be taken to restore normal conditions. It is said that feeling is running high in Tien-Tsin.

State Department Notified. WASHINGTON, March 14.—A clash between American troops, a Japanese policeman and some civilians at Tien-Tsin was reported to the state department today by Minister Reischach at Peking. He sent First Secretary Spencer to Tien-Tsin to investigate. No mention was made of a raid by American marines in the Japanese consulate and the wounding of the consul.

Sinn Feiners Ask "Safe Conducts"

DUBLIN, Thursday, March 13.—The Sinn Feiners, "in accordance with international custom," are asking the British government for "safe conducts" for their delegates to the peace conference, but will not ask for passports.

Safe conducts are issued among belligerents.

Berlin Insurrection Suppressed

BASLE, Thursday, March 13.—The Berlin insurrection might be considered as suppressed, Gustav Noske, minister of defense, announced in the national assembly at Weimar today. A German dispatch reports. Only one suburb remained to be cleared of the Spartacists, he stated, but disarmament of the population must be hastened.

GERMANY NOW FACES STARVATION

LONDON, Thursday, March 13.—If Germany does not get quite large food supplies during April, literal starvation will result, as a Reuters dispatch from Berlin.

"The government was forced to raise the bread ration weeks ago to a present status to keep the people from starving," said the dispatch. "With this ration, grain stocks will be absolutely exhausted by April."

END OF N. Y. HARBOR STRIKE IN SIGHT

NEW YORK, March 13.—The action of the army, navy and shipping board in accepting the railroad administration's wage scale and the report that the needs of the government would be met, if necessary by commandeering the boats of private owners, indicated that the harbor strike probably would be broken today.

OUR LOSSES IN NORTH RUSSIA

Total American Casualties to Date 451—Enemy Losses Much Greater

ARCHANGEL, Thursday, March 13 (By the Associated Press).—Compared to the losses inflicted upon the enemy, the allied casualties in the fighting along the Vaga river since Feb. 28 have been extremely light. It is estimated that the Bolsheviks have lost at least 600 killed.

The American casualties from Feb. 28 to March 9, inclusive, were five killed on the Vaga front, and 15 on the Dyva front. No officers were killed. One American soldier is missing and two officers and 20 men were wounded. The total American casualties to date in North Russia follow:

Killed in action: Officers, 4; men, 71. Died of wounds: Officers, 1; men, 18. Missing: Men, 26.

Died of disease: Officers, 2; men, 67. Wounded: Officers, 11; men, 241.

The health of the expeditionary force since the Spanish influenza epidemic in September and October has been excellent. Of the 69 deaths from disease, 52 occurred before Jan. 1. Throughout the fighting the American troops have generally been greatly outnumbered, but the losses inflicted upon the enemy have been at least five times those suffered by the Americans. As the newly mobilized Russian troops are becoming trained, they are gradually relieving the strain to which the American, British and French forces were put in the early days of the campaign. All American troops are now enjoying regular rest periods, either at Archangel or at convenient villages behind the lines.

REDS CAPTURE MUCH GROUND

Occupied Territory the Size of France in Two Months, Say Officers

LONDON, March 14.—The Bolshevik general staff at Moscow claims that during January and February, the Bolshevik army occupied territory the size of France, having 1085 miles of railroad under its control, and declares that the Soviet troops will reach Archangel by May 1, according to a Bolshevik dispatch to the Mail.

After the Bolsheviks entered Kiev, they are said to have executed Prof. Baronovsky, an economist, who was recently appointed to represent Ukraine in Paris; Prof. Zabolotzky; Prof. Polinsky; Gen. Balchukin, 11 newspapermen and the president of the municipality.

Government Forces Gain

ARCHANGEL, Thursday, March 13 (By the Associated Press).—As a result of the recent allied advance southward along the Murmansk railroad, part of another Russian province, Olonek, was added to the territory of the government of the north.

TO GET DEBS OUT OF JAIL

Cleveland Crowd at Meeting Swears "Debs Will Get Out or We Will Get In"

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 14.—Practically everybody who could crowd in to a theatre to hear an address by John Reed, socialist editor of New York, stood with upraised hands last night and swore "Either Gene Debs will get out of jail, or we will get in."

MUST SEND BREAD STUFFS TO RUSSIA

ARCHANGEL, Thursday, March 13 (By the Associated Press).—Information obtained by the allied food committee indicates that the American people must provide breadstuffs until the Russian question is settled and the country is again placed on a sound agricultural basis.

Because of the disruption of transportation, peasants are hesitating to sow any more grain than they themselves need, as they fear its seizure by the Bolsheviks. Owing to the shortage of seed grain, Russia will be comparatively without crops in 1919.

WOULD PROBE COAL PRICES

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—Anti-trust coal operators today were disinclined to comment upon the action of Governor Sprad in inquiring of Attorney General W. J. Schaffer, whether the state had authority to investigate coal prices by producing companies. The governor said some mines were on short time due to slackening demand, and that he was at a loss to understand the commercial or economic justification for increasing prices at this time.

The governor's action was prompted by the announcement of several large companies that present prices would continue until May 1, when 10 cents a ton would be added each month for five months. One large independent company announced it would make the increase 15 cents a ton a month.

Hearing Today on Proposed Development of the Merrimack River

(Special to The Sun.)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, March 14.—The proposed appropriation of $3,000,000 for the development of the Merrimack river from Lowell to the sea was before the committee on harbors and public lands on the petition of Rep. Victor E. Jewett of Lowell this morning. The representative said that the bill was virtually the same passed by both branches of the legislature in 1917, which was vetoed by Gov. McCall on account of the war. Mr. Jewett said that for 20 years the cities on the river had been clamoring for improvements. The seven-foot channel from Newburyport to Haverhill made by the national government is inadequate. Army engineers have recommended a 14-foot channel which is necessary to bring navigation to points higher up. In 1916 recommendations were made for an 18-foot channel from the sea to Lowell at a cost of $7,075,000, the nation and the state to pay half each. Lately the national government has extended its policy and included inland waterways in addition to seaports, providing the state pays half and acts first. Hence this state must act first. Further surveys are unnecessary.

Mayors Croy of Haverhill, Page of Newburyport, Rushoon of Methuen and Hurley of Lawrence were all present in person and were recorded in favor of the bill. Andrew G. Sutherland of Lawrence said: "This measure is more important than anything else that has ever been proposed for the interest of Massachusetts. The $14 principal industrial establishments in the state in 1913 by 1917 had increased to 935 with a value of their products increasing 152 millions to 322 millions and with their wages increasing from 42 millions to 72 millions. In other words the products of the Merrimack valley cities are in the aggregate greater than the total manufactured products of Boston.

"In the last year during which figures were available Boston foreign commerce amounted to $683,000,000. The valley produced $77,000,000 worth of products. This bill will save a million dollars a year on inward freight and ought to enable the manufacturers to materially increase wages.

The River Clyde

He cited the development of the River Clyde in Scotland and the Manchester Ship canal as two significant illustrations of what river development in foreign countries had accomplished.

Congressman Michael P. Phelan of Lynn declared that Boston would be wonderfully benefited if this improvement became a reality. "It would allow Boston to use virtually all the railroad facilities of Massachusetts because the transportation problem of the Merrimack river cities would be solved by the development and utilization of this waterway." He pointed out that during the war hundreds of Massachusetts industries, including those in the Merrimack river valley had lost profitable contracts because of transportation difficulties.

Congressman Rogers

Congressman John Jacob Rogers of Lowell estimated that the present expense of carrying on the work in this river development would amount to $11,000,000 rather than $7,000,000 as originally estimated. He said this should not discourage the legislature nor make it postpone favorable action on the bill because it was also estimated that, in all probability, it would not be possible to start work on this development before two or three years and by that time possibly the cost will be less than $11,000,000.

Mr. Rogers estimated that on the coal supply alone, of the Merrimack valley cities, 50 cents a ton would be saved to the consumer on account of cheaper transportation being available. At the present time, he said, Lawrence pays $1.35 and Lowell $1.20 more a ton for coal than Boston consumers. Inadequate railroad transportation is the cause. River transportation, we expect and believe, he said, would wipe out this margin.

"New England railroads," said Congressman Rogers, "are heartily in favor of this proposition. They realize they cannot alone carry on the burden of central New England's transportation problems. They believe and desire that this river development should help carry their burden. A colleague of mine in the congress from the west who has visited this section of Massachusetts where I live declared he believed the Merrimack river valley offered the greatest possibility for industrial development of any river in our country. Congress through its members is heartily in favor of this river development proposition but for the present the hands of congress are tied. Massachusetts through its legislature must take the initiative and after it has taken the initiative we are confident congress will promptly extend the strongest financial aid possible."

The hearing was resumed this afternoon.

CARDINAL WILL MAKE ADDRESS HERE

His Eminence, William Cardinal O'Connell, will come to Lowell Monday evening to address those present at the banquet of the United Irish societies of the city in Associate hall in observance of St. Patrick's day, according to an announcement made today by the committee in charge of the affair.

Manchester, N. H.

Napoleon Desrosiers Cured of Rheumatism and Wishes to Let His Many Friends in Lowell Know That it Was Vitalitas That Did the Work.

Mr. Desrosiers, a resident of Manchester for the past 16 years, who resides at 172 Alden street, has strong praise for Vitalitas. Mr. Desrosiers says:

"For the past ten years I have been more or less troubled with rheumatism and I have tried a great many remedies without any results. A friend told me to try the Vitalitas treatment. I took his advice and now I can't find words that will express my deep appreciation for what this wonderful remedy has done for me."

"I will say this much to those who suffer with rheumatism: I would start this treatment at once. For I believe you will be more than repaid. I consider it has no equal."

Vitalitas is a tonic, strength and blood builder. For rheumatism, indigestion, stomach, kidney or liver ailments it is doing the work where other remedies have failed. Free from alcohol or "done" drugs. Beware of cheap imitations. Mack Square.

LOWELL MAY HAVE BIG CAR SHOP

If the plans of the trustees of the Day Street Railway Co., of which Fred J. Crowley of this city is a member, and the efforts of Mr. Crowley in particular, for the rehabilitation of the road are carried out, there is a very good possibility that a large car shop, similar in nature to the car shops of the Boston & Maine railroad in Billerica, will be erected in this city to provide for the repair of all the cars of the company in the eastern part of the state and will provide employment for a large number of men.

It is known that at the present time two cities are in the foreground as possibilities for the location of the repair shop, Lowell and Chelsea. If the company succeeds in having its "50-50" plan adopted, whereby the communities which the road serves will help place it on its feet again, the first step which will be taken will be to improve the rolling stock of the company and this will mean a large plant. Mr. Crowley intends to make a strenuous effort to have this plant located in Lowell.

Various arguments for its location here are evident, prominent among them the large proportion of patronage which this city contributes to the road's upkeep. Another is that Lowell forms a nucleus of a large area of the transportation territory of the company and a third the availability of help here.

The Bay State has not made extensive improvements in its cars recently because of the fact that its roadbed in many localities is in poor condition and this could not be remedied because of the shortage of labor and material during the war as well as the

The annual business meeting of the Highland Congregational church brotherhood was held last evening. Reports of committee and officers were received and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: President, William Harvey; vice president, George Gilman; secretary, Arthur Noyes; treasurer, Edwin Pearson. A supper was served after the business meeting.

A well attended meeting in the series of welfare talks being given under the auspices of the city committee were held yesterday afternoon in Middlesex hall. Miss Mary Driscoll of Boston was to have spoken, but because of a severe cold was unable to be present. Miss Emily Skilton, worker among girls in this city, spoke interestingly of her work and the problems which arise and must be overcome in the life of each girl with whom she comes in contact. Hugh J. Jolloy, superintendent of schools, will speak at the meeting two weeks from yesterday.

TO CUT EMPLOYMENT SERVICE 80 PER CENT

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Reduction of 80 per cent. in the force of the United States employment service, effective March 22, was announced yesterday by Director General Denison. This was made necessary, it was explained, by the failure of congress to provide funds to continue the work. Mr. Denison said the number of employment offices will be reduced from 758 to 56, but that none of the work in direct connection with the return of soldiers and sailors to civilian employment would be discontinued.

Secretary Wilson in a statement last night disclosed that the service could not draw on President Wilson's $100,000,000 war emergency fund because practically all of it has been spent or pledged.

After the urgent deficiency bill was killed in the closing hours of the senate, Secretary Wilson appealed to the president. He received this reply by radio from the presidential ship, Geo. Washington, at sea:

"Regret nothing so much as the discontinuance of the work of the employment service bureau, but the fact is that, including pledges made, my fund is practically exhausted. What remains would not suffice to maintain the bureau, and to my great grief I see no escape from disbandment. I hope that it will be possible to keep a skeleton organization."

Secretary Wilson announced that the employment service would be reorganized on a basis that would enable it to utilize the voluntary services of individuals and organizations to continue the work of finding places for returned soldiers and sailors.

N. H. LED IN INCREASED ACREAGE OF CROPS

DURHAM, N. H., March 14.—New Hampshire gained the highest percentage among all states of increased acreage of staple farm crops in the war years of 1917 and 1918, according to figures made public today by the state food production committee. The computations are based on the official figures of the federal bureau of crop estimates. They include corn, buckwheat, barley, oats and potatoes. In the summer of 1917, the acreage in these staple crops in New Hampshire increased by 35 per cent over the acreage in 1915. This percentage of increase was nearly three times as great as the next ranking New England state—Connecticut, which showed 14 per cent increased acreage. In 1918, New Hampshire increased its acreage of these crops by 58 per cent over 1915. Vermont, the nearest competitor among New England states, showed an increase of 16.5 per cent. The figures do not include wheat, in which it was said New Hampshire made an extraordinary percentage increase, nor beans, in which the acreage was much greater than normal. Neither do the figures take into account war gardens. The increased money value of the crops reported in 1917 over 1915, amounted to more than $2,350,000. The increased value in 1918 over 1915, amounted to more than $2,700,000.

REVISE SCRAP OF PAPER

Treaty Between Belgium and Holland, Which Huns Ignored, Ordered Revised

BRUSSELS, Wednesday, March 12.—Premier Delacroix announced in the chamber of deputies today that the supreme council of the peace conference had decided the treaty of April 19, 1933, between Belgium and Holland must be revised.

"Parliament and the country will receive the decision with satisfaction," he said. "They will see in it the forecast of actions which will have a profound influence on the destinies of Belgium. On March 12, 1933, exactly 30 years ago, these walls heard the farewell of representatives of Belgian provinces which the execution of the treaty was about to separate from this country. The house cannot but be moved by such a memorable coincidence."

The deputies stood while the premier was speaking, and there was enthusiastic applause from all parts of the chamber.

The treaty of April 19, 1933, between Belgium and Holland was signed at London and ended an intermittent warfare which had lasted since 1830, when the Belgians revolted against Holland to which Belgium had been united by the congress of Vienna, on May 31, 1815. It provided for the separation of the two countries, but was less advantageous to Belgium than had been expected, meeting with much opposition in the Belgian parliament. The treaty stipulated that the duchy of Luxembourg should be divided, with the king of Holland retaining the fortress of Luxembourg. To compensate Holland for the loss of the rest of this duchy, the province of Limburg was divided, as was the district of Maastricht. The Scheldt river was declared to be open to the commerce of both countries and the national debt was divided.

The treaty was ratified by France, Great Britain, Austria and Prussia, the powers recognizing the independence of Belgium as "a neutral state." It was this convention which, on Aug. 1, 1914, was called a "scrap of paper" by Germany when she massed her troops for the invasion of Belgium.

The local evening newspaper is the paper that reaches the home when the whole family is there to read it. The Sun fills this field in Lowell.

COURT MARTIAL FOR CAPT. CHAMBERLAIN

LONDON, March 14.—The investigation of the stories of the remarkable exploits of Capt. Edmund G. Chamberlain of San Antonio, Tex., an officer of the United States marine corps, which has been in progress in Paris for several weeks, has developed to such an extent that the American naval authorities consider a court martial necessary. The court has been called to sit in London on March 24.

The court martial, it is announced, will investigate chiefly whether Capt. Chamberlain's recommendations for decorations were all forgeries and whether there was any truth whatever in his story of destroying an extraordinary number of machines in a short time.

Capt. Chamberlain, then a lieutenant, was recommended for the Victoria Cross and the Congressional Medal of Honor, the highest awards for bravery of Great Britain and the United States, on Aug. 31, 1918, for a reputed exploit on the preceding July 20 over the British front in a battle with 12 German machines. Chamberlain, it was reported, destroyed five enemy planes and damaged two others. His plane was damaged, but he landed successfully, whereupon he captured a German prisoner. Then, keeping his captive, Chamberlain was reported to have found a wounded French officer and to have carried him back to safety into the British lines under a German fire. American naval headquarters in London announced on Feb. 12 that, for the benefit of Capt. Chamberlain as well as for the good of the naval service, it had been decided to investigate.

BOLSHEVIKI EXECUTE OFFICERS' RELATIVES

STOCKHOLM, March 14.—All the relatives of officers of the 86th Russian Regiment, which went over to the White Guards against the Soviet government, have been executed, according to a despatch from Petrograd.

The executions were ordered by the military revolutionary committee of Petrograd.

A number of well known Russian officers, it is added, also have been executed after being convicted on charges of having spread false rumors regarding the Soviet government.

DENIES U-BOAT BASE ON COAST OF CUBA

HAVANA, Thursday, March 13.—Denial that a German submarine base had been maintained on the coast of Cuba and that Cuba had been a hotbed of German propaganda, was made tonight by Juan Montalvo, secretary of the interior, in a statement in answer to declarations made in a speech in New York recently by Maximilian Toch, a camouflager employed by the American government.

"Havana newspapers on Saturday, March 8," said the secretary's statement, "contained the remarks of a Mr. Toch, who is said to have spoken with the consent of the secretary of the American navy, to the effect that the United States naval authorities believed that a German secret base existed on the north coast of Cuba and that Cuba was practically one big nest of German spies, 'more of whom were to be found in this country than in the United States itself.' He added that 'rich German firms in Havana were notoriously aiding the central powers.'"

"In the matter of a German naval base in Cuba, it has been established that no foundation for the assumption exists. The Cuban navy, although small in comparison to the American navy, was put under the guidance and virtually at the disposal of the American navy department for the purpose of lending as efficient service as possible in the Caribbean sea and the Gulf of Mexico. As for the reported nest of German spies, the American intelligence service, both of the naval and postoffice departments, can best testify concerning the sincerity and efficiency of the co-operation given by the Cuban intelligence service during the course of the war."

SEC. DANIELS SAILS FOR EUROPE TOMORROW

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Secretary Daniels left Washington today for New York to embark tomorrow on the Leviathan for his European trip. The secretary expects to return from Europe about May 1.

FOR SUSPENSION OF BLOCKADE

BERNE, Thursday, March 13.—The international committee of the Red Cross, has addressed to the peace conference a petition favoring the suspension of the blockade and asking prompt assistance for the starving women and children, the destitute and the hospitals of middle and eastern Europe.

LOWELL TALENT AT DEVENS

"Some entertainers," was the verdict of over 500 neighbors who witnessed an entertainment given by the Lowell Y.W.C.A. under the auspices of the Jewish Welfare Board at the Jewish Welfare Hut at Camp Devens last evening. And so it was. The wounded and convalescent soldiers who turned out for the occasion soon forgot their aches and pains as they hummed and whistled an accompaniment to the catchy songs of the score of young Lowell women who acted as entertainers.

Following the concert program, impromptu dancing was in order, and the boys, even those still limping from German bullet wounds, and others with one arm in a sling, captured a partner and tripped the light fantastic until a late hour. During the intermission refreshments were served by the young ladies of the party, and when the time arrived for the homeward trip the boys were unanimous in urging their entertainers to come again and as often as possible.

The two Dion sisters opened the program with several snappy songs and were followed by Miss Mary Cohen in recitations. Rose Brownstein also gave several pleasing vocal numbers, and Miss May Levine offered two piano selections which made a big hit. Miss Leach was the accompanist.

AN ABANDONED BABY
A three-months' old baby girl that was left at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Panos G. Glinos at 33 Mt. Washington street last evening, was taken to city hall this morning and later to the Chalmers street hospital, where it will be cared for until a suitable home can be found for her.

It seems that about seven weeks ago the mother of the child, who had been recently married, brought the little girl to the home of a resident of Kenwood with the understanding that she would pay her board weekly. Everything went along smoothly for four weeks, but three weeks ago the mother left her husband and disappeared, her present whereabouts being unknown. The woman who had the child in her care called at the Glinos' home last evening and left the child in the care of the family. It is believed that the mother of the girl is now making her home in Lynn and an effort will be made to locate her.

FOOD FOR THE GERMANS

Decision To Send Food in Return For Ships Presented
to Hun Delegates

BRUSSELS, Thursday, March 13.—The decision of the allied powers providing for the turning over by Germany of merchant ships and securities in exchange for food, was presented to a German delegation here today by an allied commission, headed by Vice Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss of Great Britain.

The meeting began at 2 o'clock and half an hour later there was a recess until 3 o'clock. It is understood that only Vice Admiral Wemyss spoke during the two sessions. The Germans were permitted to ask questions, but no discussion was allowed. Vice Admiral Wemyss will return to Paris tomorrow.

PARIS, March 13.—The German delegation at Brussels today was under the presidency of Under Secretary of State Van Braun. Dr. Theodor Melchior of M. M. Warburg & Co., bankers, of Hamburg, was vice president, according to Marcel Hutin, editor of Echo de Paris. Among the German representatives was G. Mankiewicz, a director of the Deutsche bank.

It is said that Von Braun had prepared a speech, saying that the feeding of Germany was a matter of interest to all the western powers. The allies have offered to furnish food until next harvest, but it is said that the Germans were ready to urge that the only measure that would cause a great improvement in the internal situation of Germany would be the sending of food in quantities proportionate to Germany's needs and the fixing of satisfactory financial conditions.

CZECHS WILL NOT YIELD

Reject Proposals of Inter-
Allied Commission To
Evacuate Teschen

WARSAW, Thursday, March 13.—Notwithstanding the request of the Inter-Allied commission, the Czechs have refused to evacuate part of the region near Teschen which they recently occupied, and the situation seems to be delicate. They rejected the proposals of the commission and claimed that it was incomplete as a result of the departure of General Gronart, a French representative for Paris and Prof. A. C. Coolidge, an American delegate for Warsaw.

As a result of the occupation of the region by the Czechs, it is said that a part of the Polish miners there are out of work and that unemployment threatens to spread throughout the whole district.

POSTPONE AERIAL DUEL
TILL PEACE IS SIGNED

PARIS, Thursday, March 13.—The four seconds of Leon Vaudecorane and Robert Schreiber, army aviators, who proposed an aerial duel, met today and decided that, as a state of war still existed, it was impossible to permit any duel in France. Therefore, the question of the challenge has been postponed until the treaty of peace is signed.

SOLDIERS' APPLICATION
FOR $60 BONUS

In sending application to Washington for the $60 bonus, a soldier is obliged to send his discharge papers also. To avoid any hardship, the Red Cross has arranged to have copies made before sending, for any soldier who so desires, and to have these kept at a central place so that he may refer to them if he wishes before the return of his original.

All Lowell soldiers so desiring may leave copies made at the Lowell Social Service League, 81 Merrimack street, Mondays or Thursdays between 3:30 and 5 p. m. Those of the outlying towns and all other towns of North Middlesex county at the Home Service headquarters of their respective towns or at the Red Cross office, Market street, Lowell, from 2 to 4, Mondays or Wednesdays; or from 10 to 12, Saturdays. The copies will then be kept on file, and information given to any one, upon the soldier's request.

Following is further information received from the Red Cross concerning the $60 bonus:

Every person in the military or naval service who has resigned or has been discharged or released from active duty under honorable conditions after April 8, 1917; or who hereafter resigns, or is discharged from active

Best Medicine
She Ever Took
For Headache

Maine Woman Is Released From
Pain by Using the Tonic
Treatment

Efficiency has become the business measure of one person's superiority over another. This one succeeds where another fails because of the difference in this quality. Personal efficiency is dependent upon one thing as much as perfect health. If a man or a woman is handicapped with headaches which cause torture day and night, concentration and continuous effort are impossible and the victim is certain to be left behind in competition.

Sick headaches are also called nervous headaches. The cause varies but it is usually some fault in the body's process of changing the food into blood. Doctors call it "faulty metabolism." The blood loses its tone and the nerves revolt. Patient, reliable men and women thus become irritable and erratic. Their friends avoid them and the sufferer becomes melancholy and brood.

This is a serious condition if permitted to continue unchecked but in many cases it yields to the tonic and laxative treatment. Mrs. Alfred Snow of No. 55 Spring street Auburn, Me., suffered from severe headaches for a number of years and although she tried many medicines, none of them seemed to suit her case until she tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"I was all tired out," she says, "my back ached at times so I could hardly move. I had severe headaches which would make me feel drowsy, sick, was pale and lost flesh and strength. My sleep did me no good. I was tired and restless all the time. I had severe nervous attacks and pain in the top of my head. Sometimes there were terrible sensations all over my body and my heart troubled me."

"One day my son brought home six boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and asked me to try them, which I did. After the second box I could notice an improvement. I took twelve boxes at that time and I know they gave me strength and built me up. I am very thankful for the benefit which I have received from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and whenever I need a tonic I shall use them again."

There has been no increase in the price of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by your own druggist or will be sent direct by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for a copy of the book on nervous disorders. It will be mailed free to any address on request.—Adv.

duty, is entitled to gratuity of $60 with a certain few exceptions.

Briefly the persons entitled to this gratuity are:

Officers and enlisted men of the army including field clerks and nurses, navy and marine corps, naval reservists, male and female persons in the service of the coast guard, coast and geodetic survey, and lighthouse service, who performed active duty with the navy during the present war.

The exceptions are:
Any person who did not report for active duty until after Nov. 11, 1918; any person who has already received one month's pay on discharge from the army under the act of May 18, 1917; and person who is entitled to retired pay.

The heirs or legal representatives of a person who is entitled to this gratuity do not become entitled to it. It is provided as an aid to discharged men until they can obtain employment, and bears no relation to pensions, insurance or compensation.

This gratuity will be paid to the persons who are entitled to receive it on designation, discharge or release from active duty by the supply officer who makes the final settlement of their account.

If already separated from the service, members of the army will make application to the zone finance officer, Lemon building, Washington, D. C., and members of the navy or naval reserve force will make claim to the disbursing division, bureau of supplies and accounts, navy department, Washington, D. C. Members of the marine corps will make claim on the officer who settled their accounts, or if this officer's whereabouts is unknown, or if paid off by a navy supply officer, claim will be forwarded to the paymaster, marine corps headquarters, Washington, D. C. Coast Guard members will forward their claims to coast guard headquarters, Washington, D. C.

All claims will be accompanied by a statement of service and the original certificate of discharge or orders to inactive duty. If the original discharge or orders are lost, it will be necessary to obtain not only a duplicate but a statement from the officer by whom final settlement of account was made that no gratuity was paid at discharge. This will take time, of course, but is reasonable and necessary in order to avoid duplication of payments. No particular form of claim is required.

WELCOME HOME FOR
LOWELL SOLDIER

Sergeant Joseph McShane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McShane of 899 Chelmsford street, who recently returned from France, where he was gassed and wounded eight times and received the war cross for heroic service on the battlefield, was agreeably surprised at the home of his parents last evening, when a large number of his friends and relatives called to bid him welcome and congratulate him on his excellent record. Sergeant McShane was presented a handsome gold ring and a pleasant evening followed, those taking part in the entertainment being Miss Kennedy, Mrs. Adams, Miss Lillian Reiner, Mrs. Norah Stevens and J. Green. The home had been prettily decorated for the occasion with red, white and blue streamers and American flags. Games were played and a buffet luncheon was served by Mrs. Joseph McShane, Mrs. Norah Stevens, Mrs. May Donnelly and Miss Myrtle Campbell. Sergeant McShane enlisted in the national guard in 1913 as a member of Company M, Ninth regiment and when the war broke out he went to France with his unit, being later transferred to the 101st regiment. He was promoted to the position of sergeant while in France and was wounded and gassed eight times. Sergeant McShane was awarded the war cross for bravery during the last big battle in which his unit participated. A feature of last evening's gathering was the exhibition of numerous war souvenirs, which the sergeant brought back from France and which included a German Bible, a German soldier's belt, numerous pieces of German and Belgian coins, a German leather ammunition case and other things. The young man is now enjoying the best of health.

TRY THIS TONIC
FOR STUBBORN ILLS
OF THE STOMACH

Some forms of stomach trouble that do not yield to ordinary treatment often respond to the tonic treatment that builds up the system, strengthens the nerves that control the digestive processes and gives the stomach a supply of rich, red blood.

"My stomach was out of order," says Mr. Albert J. Snell, whose address is R.F.D. No. 69, Remus Point, N. Y., and my appetite was so poor that I did not care for food. There was constantly a gnawing pain in my stomach. I got but little nourishment and soon was completely run-down. I couldn't sleep or rest well, although I craved it and my eyes ached. My complexion and the whites of my eyes had a sallow, jaundice-like color. I grew so weak and shaky that I could hardly put one foot ahead of the other and my back was weak and sore. I then tried several medicines without benefit, until I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A few boxes showed me that they were adapted to my trouble and they entirely relieved me. I work hard every day and have never been troubled with my stomach since."

So many dyspeptics have been helped by this simple treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that every sufferer from indigestion should try it. Good digestion is impossible without a supply of rich, red blood and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually build up the blood to do this work.

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., has issued a free book, "What to Eat and How to Eat," that should be in every home. It gives just the information that you want regarding your diet. The company will mail Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, postpaid, at 50 cents per box or your own druggist can supply you. Do not pay more.—Adv.

ANTI-LEAGUE MEN TO
FORM ORGANIZATION

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Preliminary plans for the formation of a national non-partisan organization designed to keep the American people better informed as to events at the peace conference and to oppose acceptance of the constitution of the League of Nations as now drawn were made at a conference today between Senators Reed of Missouri, Democrat, and Borah of Idaho and Poindexter of Washington, Republicans, and George Wharton Pepper, a lawyer of Philadelphia.

After the conference it was announced that Henry Watterson, former publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal, would be president of the organization, with Mr. Pepper as directing supervisor. It was said that many senators who have been active in opposition to approval of the league constitution would support the organization.

One purpose, it was explained, would be the co-ordination of local bodies that have been formed over the country in opposition to the league. Present plans call for establishment of a speakers' bureau and the conducting of an intensive campaign of publicity. Senators said the organization would be supported by voluntary contributions and that headquarters probably would be established at New York.

The goose that laid the golden eggs is mythical but Mrs. C. C. Taylor of Bellefonte, Pa., preparing for the year a goose purchased from a farmer, found in the fowl's gizzard a piece of yellow metal about the size of a nickel, worn entirely smooth, which the Bellefonte Trust company has decided is the remains of a 55 gold piece.

CREEL TALKS OF WORK

Publicity Bureau's Domestic Work Self-Sustaining—No Differences With Wilson

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Settlement of the accounts of the committee on public information, now being made, will show that the committee's domestic work was virtually self-sustaining, according to George Creel, chairman of the committee. He returned several days ago from Europe after spending several months closing up the committee's affairs. Today he resigned as chairman of the committee. President Wilson, he said, had not yet accepted his resignation.

Of the original appropriation of $1,250,000 for the committee's domestic work, Mr. Creel said, about $200,000 remained unexpended. About $400,000 had been made from motion pictures and war exhibitions and paid into the treasury and about $250,000 more would come from this source. He said it might be interesting to learn that the deficit official bulletin had taken in $61,291 in subscriptions. Additional sums will be realized from the sale of furniture and fixtures belonging to the committee.

He said he had made no plans for his further activities but meant to take an active interest in political affairs. He added it would not be as an office seeker, "but much as a humble assistant in the defusing process of which our public life stands in need."

He characterized reports of differences with President Wilson as "so false as to be absurd." He said that it was on the other hand his greatest pride that he could say that from the first to the last he "had only faith, confidence and the most inspiring support from the president."

In discussing the peace conference, he asserted that he kept his pledge made before going abroad, that he would have nothing to do with the conference or its publicity.

"The amazing situation developed," he added, "that the very correspondents who were most fearful of my 'secret control' were eventually quarreling with me for my steadfast refusal to act as their wet nurse."

He denied that the American government since the opening of the peace conference had exercised any censorship over news matter between Europe and the United States. He said that although the French and British censorships were still in operation, nothing had been done by this government to prevent criticism of President Wilson and his policies from reaching the European press, or to prevent the sending to the United States of any news correspondents saw fit to transmit.

HELD IN $20,000

CAMBRIDGE, March 14.—Albert Hirsch, alleged to be the ninth of the automobile bandits implicated in the holdup, robbery and attempted murder of Frank R. Brown, paymaster of the General Electric Co., at Everett, Dec. 20, was arraigned in the superior court today on charges of conspiracy, assault with intent to murder and robbery while armed. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $20,000 for trial.

PARIS PRESS WELCOMES SEC. LANSING'S SPEECH

LONDON, Thursday, March 13.—Commenting upon Secretary Lansing's address at Paris on Tuesday night, in which a plea was made for supplying Germany with food, the Chronicle says:

"The crucial difficulty is tonnage, and the only way of quickly expanding the available tonnage is for the United States to restore to inter-allied use American shipping, which she withdrew last autumn. We especially welcome Mr. Lansing's speech, because it ought to mean, if it means anything, that a substantial part of this tonnage, which went to the South American trade, will once more be at the service of starving Europe."

SAYS O'LEARY DID NOT DINE WITH ROEDIGER

NEW YORK, March 14.—Sur-rebuttal was begun today in the trial of Jeremiah A. O'Leary. The defense called Joseph Auerbach, proprietor of a restaurant, in which O'Leary and Carl Roediger, co-defendant with him in indictments for treason, were declared by a government witness to have dined together. Auerbach said Roediger had been in his place and that he had seen O'Leary somewhere, but not with Roediger.

Several waiters testified that they had never seen O'Leary in the restaurant. The defendant, recalled to the stand, asserted he had never visited the place.

NO DIVIDEND BY CALUMET & HECLA

BOSTON, March 14.—"At the meeting of the directors of the Calumet & Hecla Mining Co., held today, owing to the unsettled condition of the copper industry, no action was taken in regard to a dividend," said a statement given out at the office of the company here.

The last dividend, paid three months ago, was $15 a share. During the year 1918, a total of $60 a share was paid in dividends.

CHERRY & WEBB'S BIG ALTERATION SALE

The large ad of Cherry & Webb that appeared in yesterday's paper showed a variety of cuts of ladies' gowns and dresses that are considered up to the minute in every requirement and, while there is an opportunity for getting ladies' wear in this store at great values at all times, the manager, Mr. Emmott, on this occasion has decided to put the axe in war prices deeper than ever before at a special sale. He has purchased a special variety of high grade costumes at prices that are unheard of for the style and quality offered. A variety of ten different styles can be purchased at this wonderful great mark down sale of $29 each.

The carpenters and other workmen are improving the appearance of the store and just now are putting in a new and larger French plate glass front and in prosecuting this work they have somewhat interfered with the convenient conditions that have always been a special feature at this popular store, but this has caused the manager to cut prices all the deeper. There never was a sale perhaps in this city where greater special values were given, and the alteration is responsible for this wonderful slashing of prices. It's an ill wind that blows no good, and when you consider what you can receive in value from these alteration prices you would almost wish that alterations were always in progress at this popular store.

This sale will last only a very short time, as the goods will certainly be disposed of with a rush.

The patrons of this store will be well repaid in the value received in the great bargains offered in this sale. If you prize rare values, you cannot afford to miss this special $29 sale now going on. You have read the Cherry & Webb big ad in yesterday's paper and now call to see how true was every statement made therein. A dollar saved is as good as two earned. Go and save the dollar today or tomorrow (Saturday).

BAR DANCING IN BERLIN.

LONDON, March 14.—According to a German wireless dispatch received last night there has been no important change in the situation in Berlin during the past 24 hours.

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Copenhagen, says that on demand of the Majority Socialists a prohibition against dancing has been issued in Berlin. The dispatch adds that during the week while women and children were being murdered and dancing revels in fancy dress were engaged in on the streets.

IT WILL BE "SOME PARTY"

The party to be held at Lincoln hall, March 15th, St. Patrick's night, has been arranged to be the leader of the year. The most promising feature is a good time by leading dance goes who are conducting this wonderful affair. Mr. Harry Keyes allows that he has arranged the "best ever" dance order for the party.

EVERY LITTLE BIT HELPS.

As a result of an accident between an automobile of the water department and a machine of the International Steel & Ordnance Co., on Jan. 11, Commissioner Morse today received a check for $115 from A. R. Belyea, chief auditor for the U. S. Casualty Co.

Commissioner Morse is also deriving additional revenue from the sale of horses of the department. Three of the animals were sold yesterday at public auction and brought a total of $200 or $75, $65 and $60, respectively.

FIRST LEG FOR LOWELL MEN

It was a jolly crowd that left Club Citizens-Americans in Middle street last evening and journeyed to Lawrence, the trip being made by special electric and by auto. The occasion was the first in a series of three game contests between the Lowell club and the members of the French-American Naturalization club of Lawrence. The Lowell delegation attending the contest numbered about 75 and all spent a most enjoyable evening, for besides bringing home the palm of the first match they were royally entertained by their hosts. The match was organized some time ago and the date for the first meet was set for last night.

The games played consisted of whist, push, cribbage and checkers and the Lowell players won every game, coming out with a lead of about 100 points in the score. At the close of the match, entertainment numbers were given by Lawrence and Lowell talent, and refreshments were served. The next meet will take place in the rooms of the U.C.A. in Middle street next Wednesday evening at which time the place for the third and final match will be set, for it has been agreed that after the second match the winning team will act as host to the losing team. Haverly Gazon captured the Lowell delegation last evening.

WILD SCENES IN BERLIN

Brig. Gen. Harries of U. S. Military Force in Berlin, Describes Conditions

In Paris To Render Report to Supreme War Council—Nearly Killed

PARIS, Thursday, March 13. (By the Associated Press.)—Brigadier General George H. Harries, commander of the American military force at Berlin, has been here for several days to appear before the supreme war council to render a report on the military and economic situation in Germany. He has given a dramatic recital of events in Berlin during the last three months, culminating in the serious street fighting of the last fortnight.

When the American party left Berlin, the government forces under Gustav Noske, the German war minister, had the upper hand and, in Gen. Harries' opinion, the government will control the situation particularly if food is sent to aid in holding back the bolshevik menace from the eastern border.

Had Narrow Escape

The American forces in unoccupied Germany consist of 50 officers and 600 men, a considerable part of the contingent being stationed at 20 camps where 600,000 Russian prisoners are being cared for by the Americans. The headquarters in Berlin is on the second floor of the Hotel Adlon, in the heart of the city, where much fighting has been going on. During the early stages of the fighting, Gen. Harries had a narrow escape. He was standing in a window of the American headquarters, when a sniper's bullet grazed his breast and buried itself in a window casing by his side.

During the more recent disorders in Berlin, the electric lights have been extinguished, street cars stopped, telephones and telegraph wires cut, newspaper presses left idle and stores closed, yet the public, according to Gen. Harries, showed little evidence of panic. The streets have been crowded with people, including women and children, but the military forces have kept the crowds constantly moving. The route of rifles and machine guns echoed throughout the city both day and night, but the Spartacist bands have been gradually driven back and have lost control of strategic centers. Thousands of Russian prisoners, Gen. Harries says, are clamoring to return home, but this would present a serious problem, as it would mean the sending of 600,000 Russians into the hands of the bolsheviks. The latter are threatening the Polish front and have powerful organization at Vienna with unlimited funds for propaganda work, which is under direction of Adolph Joffe, formerly bolshevik ambassador at Berlin. It is believed that a strong military zone in Poland, between Russia and Germany, with food relief, offers the surest means of holding back the bolshevik advance. Under American care, the Russian prisoners are in reasonably good condition, with adequate food and little sickness and mortality. Steps will probably be taken to return them to Russia by way of the Black sea or by other routes, so as to avoid forcing them into the bolshevik ranks.

PALESTINE RESTORATION DRIVE IN LOWELL

The opening gun of the Palestine Restoration drive in Lowell was fired last evening at Memorial hall, when an audience which packed the spacious hall to overflowing heard talented local and out-of-town speakers tell of the need of funds to further the establishment of a Jewish state in Palestine. America's Jewish citizens are asked to contribute $2,000,000 for this purpose, and Lowell's quota has been set at $5000.

Bennett Silverblatt, chairman of the Zionist organization in this city, was the first speaker. He first spoke of the beginning of the Zionist movement in America. Twenty years ago Theodore Herzl conceived the idea of uniting the Jews in a world-wide Zionist organization, raising a fund to purchase Palestine from Turkey, and establishing a Jewish state under the suzerainty of that country.

Although Herzl did not accomplish all he hoped for, he did bring about the organization of all Jews throughout the world for the purpose of re-establishing their homeland, and also the establishment of the Anglo-Palestine bank which assisted materially in the development of the natural resources of Palestine.

The speaker then referred to the breaking out of the great war, and to the so-called Balfour declaration in 1917, which in substance provided that the English government recognized the rights of the Jews to acquire Palestine and establish a home of their own. Other powers followed suit in this matter, and only last week President Wilson expressed his entire agreement with the Balfour declaration.

He spoke of the group of men who addressed a petition to the peace conference objecting to the establishment of a Jewish state in Palestine. "These constitute only a small majority of the thinking people of the country," the speaker said, and should not give any one argument advanced by these so-called objectors, and that is that if a Jewish state is formed in Palestine it will mean divided allegiance on the part of the Jews in this country. This is not the truth. The idea of a Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacturing Co. of Monroeville, Pa. The homeland in Palestine no more conflicts with the loyalty and duties of the American Jews as citizens of this country, than the aspirations of the Poles, Syrians or Armenians, or any of the other small nations which are asking for an independent home of their own. It simply means an opportunity to Jews throughout the world who have been persecuted in other lands to acquire a home where they can be free and independent.

The speaker then spoke of the need of money for the reclamation work which must be done in Palestine. A commission has been formed to make surveys, establish schools, provide proper sanitation, in fact to bring the comforts and conveniences of this country and other civilized lands to the new home that is to be. For this work a fund of $2,000,000 has been asked and Lowell's share is $5000. The speaker asked his audience to give according to their means, and not to allow it to be said that Lowell, the city that always went over the top in all the big campaigns of the past, would be found wanting when the drive closes one week from today.

Mr. Silverblatt then introduced His Honor Mayor Perry D. Thompson, who spoke briefly on the work to be done in Lowell's quota is to be raised successfully. He said that the presiding officer having told all about conditions in Palestine there seemed little left for him to add, except to speak words of encouragement. He endorsed the cause as a righteous one, and said there is no occasion for fear, but that the Jew in Palestine, in his native country, will maintain a government that will do credit not only to the race, but will be a standard for the world.

Dr. Eichler of Boston, who is well known to Lowell people, was the next speaker. He spoke of the aims of the campaign, and then asked his hearers to imagine the misery of a man without a country, as illustrated in the story of Edward Everett Hale, and then to think what it means when a whole nation, millions of people, are condemned to be homeless, driven from one land to another, a people without a country. He also spoke of the Jews who are opposed to the forming of a homeland, and branded them as traitors of the darkest type.

The last and principal speaker was Rev. H. Maslansky, of New York, one of the most renowned Jewish speakers of the day. He addressed the people in their own language, and after telling of the vast amount of work which must be done in order to make Palestine the habitable for civilized people, he appealed earnestly for the funds to make the work possible. He expressed the opinion that Lowell Jews, who stood ready and willing to give their money and their sons to Uncle Sam when the call came, would also be found ready to give their own countrymen throughout the world might have a place which they could indeed call home.

NO MORE SKATING

The skating season in Lowell for the present season made its exit today when employees of the water department began letting out the water from Shedd park. Residents of the vicinity of the park have been complaining since the ice at the park began to soften up, that water was overflowing their cellars and accordingly the park department officials thought it best to call the skating season off.

CLOSE EMPLOYMENT BUREAU HERE

The Lowell Employment Bureau will be discontinued March 22, according to a communication from Federal Director Everett W. Lord, which was received today by Examiner Cronin of the local bureau.

The letter states that owing to the failure of congress to allow the appropriation which was necessary to the maintenance of the service, all offices of the United States employment service are ordered closed on this date for a period of at least three months, at which time it is thought that the senate will ratify the bill already voted by congress to maintain and continue the service indefinitely.

Examiner Cronin told The Sun that this ruling does not affect the soldiers and sailors employment bureau which has been established in connection with the local employment office, and this department will continue as heretofore, for the benefit of the returning men who want away to do or die for Uncle Sam.

A resume of the activities of the Lowell office since its inception in August shows a record second to none. Over 600 persons have been placed in profitable employment by the bureau in that period, the month of February alone showing 400 placements out of 1000 vacancies, and this in spite of the fact that the employment situation is worse at present than at any time in the past five years.

These figures do not allow for the soldiers and sailors who have been placed in positions by the office. A large majority of the homecoming boys have been forced to apply to Examiner Cronin for work upon their return home, and in most cases have been placed in the ranks of industry in a short time.

MAJOR CARROLL SWAN

Member of 101st Engineers
Addresses Men's Club of
Grace Universalist Church

Major Carroll J. Swan of the 101st Engineers, 25th Division, entertained the members of the Men's club at the Grace Universalist church last night with a most interesting recital of his overseas experiences with the boys from Massachusetts.

Major Swan went across in command of engineers and was with the Yankee division through all its fighting. Last autumn he was ordered home for service as an instructor. He arrived in this country just at the time when the order prohibiting American soldiers from publishing accounts of their experiences was revoked, and he immediately published his book form, under the title, "My Country." It was the first story of the great allied counter-drive written by an American officer, and as such has been widely read.

Major Swan's talk last evening covered the activities of his regiment over practically all of the fronts where it saw service. The Twenty-sixth was the first full unit to take over a complete sector and place the Boche liner. "There were 27,000 stout-hearted boys in that division," said Major Swan, "and every one of them showed real stuff when it came to fighting. They were commanded by men who won distinction and for whom the boys would give their last drop of blood. Our leader, General Edwards, was loved and respected by all, and there wasn't a man in the outfit who would not have gone the limit for him."

Major Swan spoke of the excellent morality of the American soldier and characterized him as "the cleanest living man on the front." "And when they come back," he continued, "give them a helping hand and be sure to see that their jobs are open for them. They richly deserve it. Also don't forget the boy with the silver service chevrons, for although he was not given the opportunity to go across, he is entitled to just as much consideration. Make no distinction."

The speaker told of his meeting with Leites, Cashin and Waller of Lowell the day following an artillery attack of great intensity, and said that a shell bursting in the house where the Lowell officers were billeted destroyed practically everything except the bed on which they were sleeping. He also spoke of Adj. Charles Stevens of this city, who is held in high esteem by his comrades.

Major Swan had several souvenirs with him, including a German luge, a bayonet and American trench knife. The use of the gas mask and the helmet also were demonstrated. He was heartily applauded at the close of his talk, and the men present would have been content to listen for hours longer.

Hurry, Mother! Remove Poisons From Little Stomach, Liver, Bowels

Give "California Syrup of Figs" At Once if Bilious or Constipated

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour-bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

SERG. DOUGLASS HOME ON FURLOUGH

Sergt. Harry L. Douglass of the 101st Engineers, 26th division, has returned to the home of his brother, Horace L. Douglass, 180 Grand street, for a short furlough. Sergt. Douglass was ordered home from France a convalescent and landed in New York city, Feb. 27. He was ordered to Debarcation hospital, No. 2, suffering from severe gassing and also a wound in his left leg caused by shrapnel. On March 10 he was ordered to Camp Devens.

He served in France 18 months and participated in a large number of battles with the 26th. He received his gassing at Chateau Thierry and Arras. He was wounded while serving in the Tont sector. He has been awarded the croix de guerre for distinguished action in the front line.

Previous to the entry of this country into the world war, Sergt. Douglass served an enlistment with the 14th U. S. Cavalry and was stationed at the Mexican border for 14 months. He received an honorable discharge in February, 1917, and enlisted in the First Corps Cadets, now the 101st Engineers.

Sergt. Douglass comes from a fighting family. His grandfather served during the Civil war, his father was 27 years in the regular army and lost his life in the Philippines in 1910, and his brother, Horace, served six years in the regular army and was for a time stationed in Lowell as recruiting officer. Sergt. Douglass expects to receive his discharge in a short time and resume civilian life.

BUILD FISHWAYS HERE AND AT LAWRENCE

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, March 14.—The legislative committee on fisheries and game reported in the senate today a bill directing the commissioners on fisheries and game to proceed at once with the construction of fishways in the Merrimack river at Lawrence and Lowell. The bill reported provides that:

"The board of commissioners on fisheries and game acting under the powers now vested in them by law in relation to fishways, are hereby directed, during the current year, to provide, re-establish or construct suitable and sufficient fishways on the Merrimack river at Lawrence and Lowell. The damage and expense incurred hereunder shall, in accordance with the provisions of law and of this act, be borne by the owners of the dams located at said points on said river; but the said commissioners are hereby authorized to enter into an agreement with the owners of said dam whereby such portion, if any, of the said damage or expense as the commissioners may deem equitable, shall be assumed and paid by the commonwealth.

"Said commissioners are hereby authorized to expend from the treasury of the commonwealth, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, a sum not exceeding $15,000 in addition to any sum that may be contributed for said purpose by any individual, association or municipality. All receipts and expenditures made hereunder shall be set forth in the succeeding annual report of said commissioners."

"Nothing contained in this act and no action of the commissioners hereunder shall be construed as a waiver or release on the part of the commonwealth of its right to compel the owners of said dams to construct and maintain said fishways, nor shall anything in this act, nor any action of the commissioners hereunder, be so construed as to impair the legal rights or remedies of any person or corporation."

The Lowell Charter

The committee on cities filed in the house a recommendation that Representative Thomas Corbett's bill to amend the Lowell charter be referred to the next general court.

Election County Officers

A bill providing that all county officers shall hereafter be elected for four year terms was reported today by the committee on election laws.

Because of the adoption by the people of the biennial elections amendment, it is necessary for the legislature to provide that all public officers of the state and of the various counties shall be elected either for two years or for multiples of two years. It had been expected that those now elected for three years, except county commissioners, would be elected for four years, and that those now elected for five years would hereafter be elected for six years. The committee decided, however, to put them all on an equal basis of four years.

The new plan is likely to cause some confusion, especially in the case of county commissioners, because it is apparent that with three commissioners to be elected at two elections in the course of four years, it will be necessary to elect two at one of the elections.

"Made in Massachusetts"

By a vote of 71 to 61, the house ordered to a third reading a bill providing that "Manufacturers of any article produced in this commonwealth which is intended for export to a foreign country shall mark, either on the article or on the package in which it is shipped, the following words: 'Made in Massachusetts, U.S.A.' Violations of the proposed law are made punishable by a fine of not more than $50 for each offense.

Several manufacturers who are members of the house protested against the bill, declaring that it would ruin their business. Mr. Underhill of Somerville said some of the "third-rate" stuff produced in Massachusetts is so poor that the state should not be willing to own it.

Two-Platoon Bill

By a vote of 14 to 1, the committee on cities decided to file a favorable report on the two-platoon bill for fire departments in cities. The bill provides that whenever ten per cent of the legal voters in any city file a petition therefor, the question of establishing the system shall be placed upon the ballot and if a majority of the voters voting on the question approve it, the system is to be established immediately. House Chairman Wood-ill of Melrose will oppose the bill.

Auto Registration Fees

Practically all of the automobile associations in the state registered their opposition to the bill of Mayor Peters of Boston, providing that the fees now exacted for the registration of automobiles shall be trebled. They said they are willing to submit to double taxation if it does not become excessive, but to increase the present fees as is proposed they thought would be adding insult to injury.

Adverse reports were filed today on bills to require the bonding of jitney operators, for the protection of passengers, and to require disinfecting and cleansing of street railway cars after each trip.

D. E. KEITH'S THEATRE

Character delineations that are unique and that are most thorough are purveyed by Lillian Shaw at the D. E. Keith Theatre, this week. Miss Shaw certainly surpasses any woman who has appeared here in many months, and she is attracting very large audiences to the theatre this week. Her Hebrew types are perhaps her best, although an Italian number meets with real approval. "Love, Honor and Obey," in which W. H. Macart and Ethylene Bradford are appearing, is a comedy with some real situations in it. Mr. Macart is an actor of a school which numbers not too many members today. His work is finished and convincing. The Wilton Sisters are without doubt the finest pair of youngsters on the boards. They sing, dance, talk and play the piano and violin. At every performance they are recalled again and again. The Three Eddies are pantomimists of a high order, and the Curze Sisters sing through the air in their beautiful maxillary act. Wallace & Drew in a neat little skit, and Swift & Daley in a novelty musical act make up the remainder of the bill.

THE STRAND

"Woman, Woman!" the vehicle of entertainment starring Evelyn Nesbit, is being shown with marked success at The Strand. The picture story is wonderfully interesting, and the star is given unusual opportunity to reflect her exceptional ability. The foundation on which the story is placed is the heroine's sacrifice for her good name to a wealthy jeweler, who is infatuated with her, in order to obtain enough to help care for her dying husband. Complications follow and a big climax comes at the close.

Virginia Pearson, the emotional star of the screen in "The Love Auction" is the other feature. You can't help liking and admiring the wonderfully clever work of the star in this offering. The star, in the role of the young woman who is courted by two men, who sells herself to the man who bids the highest sum in money instead of the man who offers the greatest love, gives a most interesting portrayal.

Ray Hughes, impersonator, was unable to fill his engagement on account of sickness.

Lieut. W. C. MacBrayne, Lowell's war hero, holder of the coveted croix de guerre and the distinguished war cross, will give a talk at The Strand Sunday afternoon and night on "The Lowell Boys of the 36th." He will also review some of his own personal experiences. No local man knows war as does Lieut. MacBrayne.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A regular meeting of the members of Highland Veritas lodge, I. O. O. F., was held last evening with a large attendance. A large amount of routine business was transacted and the committee on the 100th anniversary celebration reported progress in its plans. It was voted to extend an invitation to the district deputy grand master and suite to attend the celebration.

Lowell Socialists.

The members of the American branch of the Lowell Socialists held their regular meeting at 22 Middle street last evening. Routine business was transacted and it was voted to hold a mass meeting to aid the Lawrence strikers, Mar. 23, and it was announced that prominent speakers from Boston and Lawrence will be secured for the occasion.

CARDINAL TO AID HEALTH CAMPAIGN

BOSTON, March 14.—Cardinal O'Connell, upon his return to Boston yesterday, offered his full co-operation in the $20,000 health campaign for the Boston dispensary, Baby Hygiene association and District Nursing association. In a letter to Miss Dorothy Forbes, vice chairman of the campaign committee, enclosing his check for $50, he said:

"I regret to hear that the committee in charge of the campaign is finding it difficult to raise the amount contemplated, and I earnestly hope that during the next few days the efforts of the committee will be far more successful. Of course there have been many calls upon the generosity of everybody for the last four years, nevertheless, it seems to me that when the public realizes, and I am sure it will, the good services which the Boston dispensary, the Baby Hygiene association and the Instructive District Nursing association are rendering, it will not withhold the little which is necessary for the upkeep of these activities. I was sorry to have missed you when you called yesterday, and I hope it will not be the cause of discouraging you from coming to see me any time during the campaign I may be of service."

Despite the fact that a total subscription of only $33,000 has been reported at the Health Campaign Headquarters, 95 Milk street, the campaign committee is optimistic that the $270,000 will be raised.

Council Gives Hearing on Petition For School in Highlands

Declarations that the school board had assumed a "bullying attitude" and that the members would never change their minds were among the features of the hearing when the municipal council gave to petitioners for a new school in the Highlands near Tyler park rather than an annex to the present Morey school, at one half last evening.

A few weeks ago the school board gave a hearing on the two petitions, signed by G. E. Putnam and Benjamin Staveland and others, and made an adverse report. The petitioners have asked that the municipal council give a hearing and the request was granted.

The meeting was called to order at 7:15. The attendance was not large. Clinton D. Tuttle was the first speaker and he said that there was no modern concrete school building in the city at the present time. He maintained that if it should be decided to erect an addition to the Morey school. He said that there was plenty of land in the vicinity of Tyler park assessed for a cent a foot. The present attitude of the school committee he characterized as "bullying."

Mayor Thompson said that the speaker didn't give a remedy. The school committee had recommended the only thing the council could do would be to refuse to give the committee money. Mr. Webster said that that was just what the petitioners wanted.

Commissioner Murphy wanted to know if the people of the Highlands would justify the council in taking such an action. Mr. Webster replied in the affirmative.

Commissioner Morse was of the opinion that within 10 years there would be sufficient increase in population in the entire Highland district to demand a new school regardless of whether an annex is built now.

Fred O. Lewis stated that the Morey school would be a grotesque looking affair if an addition were put on to it. He didn't believe that the full membership of the school committee was in favor of an addition. Incidentally, he remarked that with one exception, none of the members of the school board could have been elected without the votes of ward 8.

David Latham and Mrs. Sarah Condit also spoke in favor of the petition and told of the inconvenience caused their children by having to walk from Middlesex village to the Morey school. The hearing closed at 9:10 p. m., the council taking the matter under advisement.

OLD CADETS

There will be a meeting of the O.M.I. Cadets at their armory tonight at 7:30 o'clock, and much important business, including plans for Battalion night, will be discussed. A change is to be tried this year, when one company instead of three will appear in the drill on battalion night. Consequently elimination drills will be held from now until the prize company is selected. The first drill will be held tonight and hence it is expected that all members and officers will be present.

ADOPT AERIAL TERMS

Germany Must Give Up All Aircraft and Cease Production Till Peace Is Signed

PARIS, March 14.—Germany must deliver all airplanes to the allies and must prohibit the construction of other airplanes until the conclusion of peace, the supreme war council declared today in adopting the aerial terms to be imposed on Germany in the preliminary peace. The terms do not decide the future fate of the airplanes which may either be destroyed or divided among the allies. The British and American delegates brought up the question of a distinction between commercial aerial navigation, which will be authorized for Germany after conclusion of peace under certain guarantees and military aerial navigation which will be prohibited.

The council decided to send an aeronautic commission to Germany to investigate the question of commercial navigation. Deputy Aubigny of the French chamber will be chairman.

AUTO VS. ELECTRIC CAR

A Buick automobile owned by Fred B. Emerson and operated by a chauffeur, collided with an electric car at the junction of Westford and Howard streets at about 8 o'clock this morning.

and although the machine was damaged to some extent, no one was injured. The automobile was being driven up Howard street and when Westford street was reached it ran in the path of an outbound car in charge of Motorman Michael Harvey. The auto was struck on the side of the running board and nearly turned over. One of the rear wheels was smashed. The electric car was not damaged.

EXPLAINED PROCESS OF REGISTRATION

John P. Farley, formerly chairman of the board of registrars, addressed the civics class of the League of Catholic Women yesterday afternoon on the subject of registration. He explained laws governing immigration, naturalization and registration and the difference between federal and state laws. The importance of registration and the ways and means of performing the function were emphasized. The speaker showed the necessity of instructing the newly naturalized citizen in the duties of citizenship and said that only by being properly registered would he have the right to vote or to have a voice in the government. Problems suggested by Judge Knright's talk on naturalization last week were discussed with Mr. Farley by members of the class. The lecture proved most interesting and instructive.

C. B. COBURN CO. Takes Big Glass Contract

Central street can boast of another building improvement, for C. B. Coburn Co. has been given the contract to install new show windows in the building numbered 101-Central street, and these promise to be among the most attractive in the city. The contract calls for six lights of plate glass for the second floor front: four of these to be 36x90 each, and two lights measuring 90x90 each. Setting glass of these dimensions in a second story requires the most careful handling and expert skill such as only practical glaziers can display. Hold-fast copper corner bars are being used on this work. This hold-fast bar system for store front construction does away with large and unsightly wooden frames or posts, and provides a complete metal setting for the glass. It covers the smallest possible portion of the glass surface, consistent with strength and durability, and provides the lowest rate of insurance on the plate glass while giving the "all glass" effect. This work in the Central street building will but further demonstrate what the Coburn Glazing Department can do for the individual or firm.
